Thomas Swim Delayed

TACOMA (AP)—An unscheduled fire on Evald Anderson's boat, The Princess, at the Tacoma Yacht Club at 9:01 a.m. today caused an unscheduled delay in Bert Thomas' swim from Seattle to Tacoma. The Princess was a total loss, club officials said.

Thomas, his wife and crew were just preparing to leave for Seattle when the fire broke out.

They immediately began hauling out boats on either side of the Princess and several of the crew received slight injuries.

Dr. Fran Hoskinn, who received a slight cut, ordered Thomas not to swim for at least 20 hours, because of the exertion caused by the rescue operation. Thomas was shaken up and his fingers were slightly squeezed.

A hole was punched in the side of the Thomas boat, which pulled out four or five yachts from either side of the burning boat.

Lester Jones, a crew member, was taken to a hospital for treatment of a cut hand.

Reds Attack South Korea Garrison

SEOUL (Reuters)—The United Nations command today charged the Communists in Korea with "wantonly attacking" a South Korean defence post along the demarcation line. The charge was made after South Korea earlier today said Communist troops, believed to be Chinese, crossed the armistice line Tuesday to attack the post 50 miles north of Seoul.

The 40-minute exchange of fire was the third attack of its kind in the area within 10 days, a South Korean spokesman said. He said there were no casualties.

In Tokyo, a spokesman for the United States Far East command said a confidential report on the incident had been received from the UN section of the military armistice commission which "pretty much" confirmed details of the clash given by the South Korean government.

Previous allegations of violation of the armistice which ended the Korean War have mainly concerned alleged intrusions by planes over the territories of North and South Korea.

The Communist North was divided from the non-Communist South under the armistice agreement, and a demilitarized zone was established. Both sides have since complained of hostile incidents in this zone.

4 Crewmen Die in Two RCAF Crashes

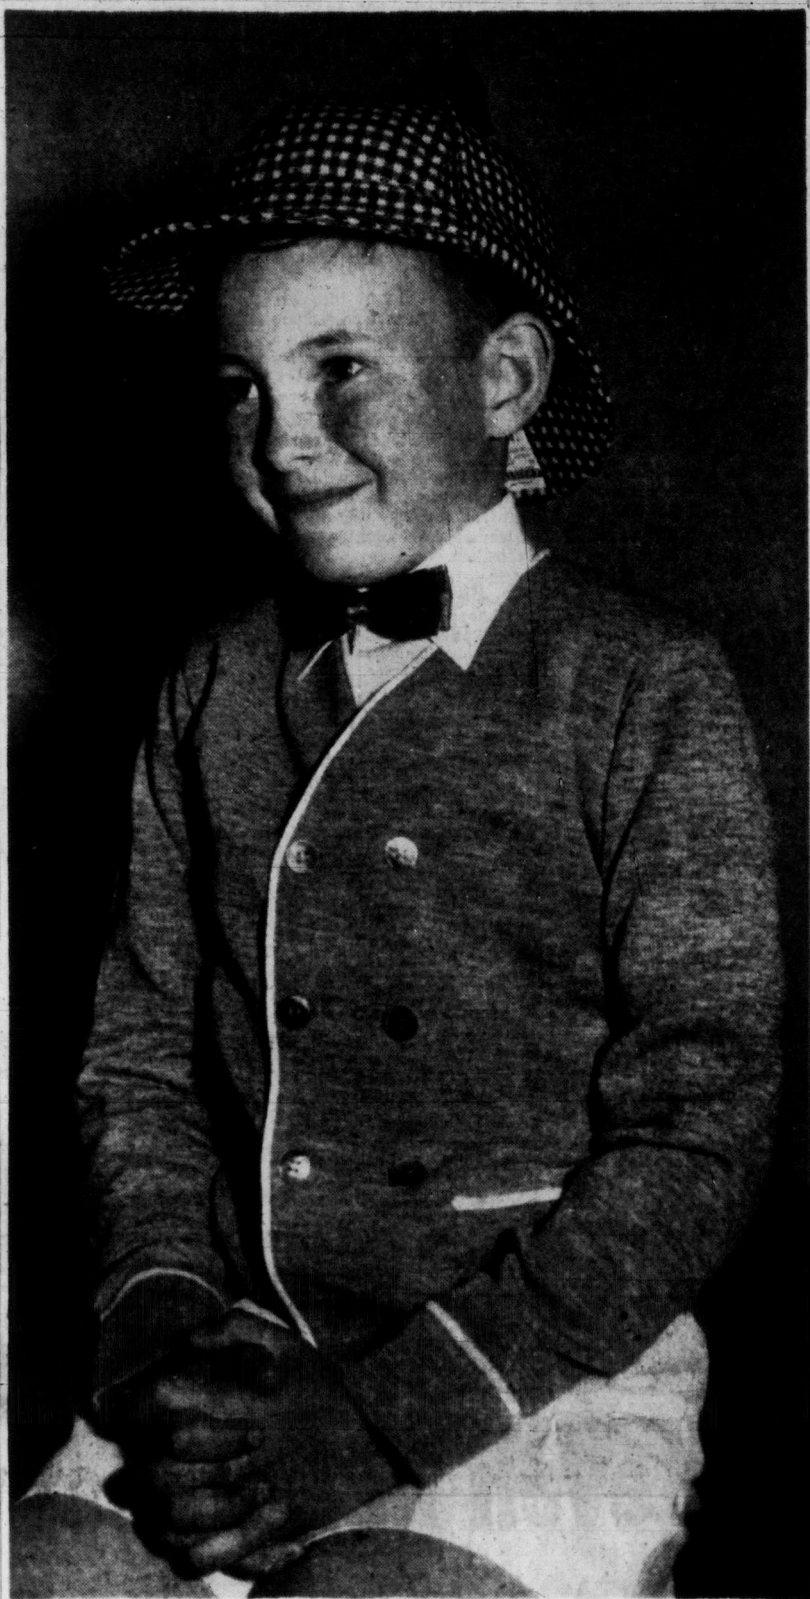

LACHINE, Que. (BUP)—An RCAF four-crewman Otter amphibious plane crashed near the Goose Bay, Labrador, air base Tuesday, killing its crew of three airmen, air transport command headquarters announced here today.

Killed were the pilot, FOR C. Reid, 27, Dartmouth, N.S., whose widow and one son live at Goose Bay; the co-pilot, FO J. M. Ketcheson, 38, Trenton, Ont., whose widow and three children live at Goose Bay; and the crewman, LAC F. E. Solazza, 21, Sydney, N.S., who was not married.

COALHURST, Alta. (CP)—Flight Cadet Gordon Eugene Baedak was killed Tuesday when his Harvard training plane crashed near here. He was the only occupant in the two-seat aircraft.

Baedak was based at the RCAF station in Claresholm, 43 miles northwest of here. His family lives in New Westminster, B.C.

FASHION FOR BEST-DRESSED MEN

37½-MILE MUDHOLE BOGS ALBERTA CARS

CORONATION, Alta. (CP)—Travellers reported today that all motor traffic has been stopped by a sea of mud for 37½ miles on the southeastern end of Highway No. 12, a main road in this district 200 miles southeast of Edmonton.

As the district's record snowfall melted forming miniature lakes, the 37½-mile stretch became a bog, said residents who described the road as a "mudhole."

No Ambition to Lead Party Nationally, Says Bennett

VANCOUVER (CP)—Premier Bennett reiterated Tuesday that he has no ambition to lead the Social Credit party federally.

He made the comment in an interview here after national leader Solog Low indicated in Ottawa that he might resign because of ill health.

"My job is with British Columbia," Premier Bennett said. "We have just started on a big development program and I'm planning to stay here to help carry it out."

The premier said at the Social

Credit convention in Vancouver last fall that he had no federal ambitions. At that time Mr. Low said he would not stand in the way if the people wanted B.C.'s premier as leader.

Press for Renewal Of Wheat Pact

WASHINGTON (CP)—A conference of farm leaders from Canada, the United States and Mexico Tuesday adopted a resolution urging renewal of the International Wheat Agreement which sets the price for sales between exporting and importing countries.

Canadian delegates to the two-day conference, a meeting of the North American members of the International Federation of Agricultural Producers, generally were optimistic that the agreement will be renewed.

Mayor's Wife Dies

NANAIMO (CP)—The wife of Mayor Earle Westwood died in Nanaimo hospital this forenoon after a 10-day illness.

LONDON (BUP)—A modern revolution is stirring up a tempest in British teapots.

The land of tea drinkers is in for a shock—North American-style tea bags are coming to England. Plans are brewing to fill English teapots with the quick way to afternoon tea.

The chairman of a British tea company, Tetley Ironside Tetley-Jones, told a news conference in London about the revolution. But he said the British version of the tea bag won't be like the North American kind that "looks like dead mice or something."

English tea bags will have better tea, he said, and the bags won't dangle from strings. Why the switch? Well, Tetley-Jones explained, tea bags make it easier to clean the pot.

One more question: Where did Tetley Ironside Tetley-Jones get his name? Said the Englishman, "My parents had no imagination when they named me."

Cole Cancels Concerts

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—Nina King Cole, who was attacked on the stage by a group of white men during a concert here Tuesday night, today canceled scheduled appearances in three other southern cities.

Police Find Empty Bag In Bia Theft

EDMONTON (CP)—Police reported today they have found the canvas bag in which $44,300 in new bills was stolen Monday from a CNR van in downtown Edmonton.

The bag, first tangible piece of evidence in the theft, was being given a routine check but city detectives and CNR investigators said it indicated little.

A motorist found the bag in the circular park in front of the administration building at the Edmonton airport.

The robbery, second largest in Edmonton's history, was from a van delivering the new bills to the main branch of the Royal Bank.

In 1919, $50,000 in cash disappeared from the Edmonton post office and the case never was solved.

CAIRO, Egypt (UP)—Egypt announced today, in the midst of its peace-in-the-Middle East negotiations with United Nations Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold, that it was withdrawing its Fedayeen suicide squads from Israel.

B.C. Flood Threat At Serious Stage

Heavy Snow Pack Poses Danger Says Lands Minister Williston

A definite flood potential exists throughout British Columbia, Lands and Forests Minister Ray Williston announced today.

Mr. Williston made the disclosure in releasing snow pack figures taken on snow courses in the provinces mountain ranges.

"A very heavy accumulation of snow has developed for the entire province," he said.

The minister said the snow pack "is almost equivalent to that in 1954, which was the highest on record."

He said "it is noted that the flood potential indicated in 1954 did not develop, as favorable weather conditions dissipated the snow without real trouble."

"A slow steady melt without prevailing high temperatures similar to those experienced in 1948 could again release the snow melt without serious flooding along the principal rivers."

Especially will this be so if Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin and Communist party chief Nikita S. Khrushchev propose another summit conference. The informal British agenda for the six meetings Eden will have with the Russians during their 10-day visit was disclosed today following release of the final schedule for their trip. They arrive one week from today.

Release of the trip schedule was a sharp departure from the security consciousness of the British in the case of previous Russian visitors.

Authoritative sources said Eden decided to use the two-power "summit" talks only to sound out Russian intentions.

They said he intends to abandon polite diplomacy and do "plain talking" on what the new Soviet anti-Stalin policy will mean to the west and on what Moscow's designs are in the Middle East.

He also will ask some blunt questions on the thorny problems of German unification, East-West contacts and the Far East—problems that were left up in the air at the July summit conference and plunged into discouragement at the ensuing Big Four foreign ministers conference last fall.

The main watershed of the Fraser River, above Hope, shows a water content of 124 per cent of normal, and 40 per cent over that of last year.

Vancouver Island watersheds are down slightly from last year, but are still at 164 per cent of normal.

East Kootenay above Creston shows a snow pack of 133 per cent of normal, the West Kootenay, between Creston and Castlegar, 139 per cent of normal. East Okanagan watershed 125 per cent of normal; West Okanagan 124 per cent of normal.

The Similkameen shows 144 per cent of normal, the North Thompson 155 per cent of normal, coastal watersheds 133 per cent of normal and the Skagit River system 156 per cent of normal.

Weak U.S. Policy Blamed for Crisis

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Adlai Stevenson charged today that Eisenhower administration policy in the Middle East has brought the United States to the brink of war.

He urged that the U.S. assist Israel with arms to prevent aggression.

The Democratic presidential hopeful declared in a speech that the administration's latest statement of policy "to oppose aggression in the Middle East within constitutional means" was "very disappointing."

The administration pledge is sued earlier this week said the United States would support and assist any national attacked there.

"It is not enough to pledge support to Israel if subjected to aggression," Stevenson said. "We should make it emphatically clear that we will not tolerate aggression. And we should assist Israel with arms to prevent aggression."

The Arab ring around Israel was tightened Tuesday when Syria and Jordan agreed to coordinate their frontier forces and to regard an Israeli attack on one as an attack on both.

Hammarskjold flew to Cairo with Canadian Maj.-Gen. Edson L. M. Burns, chief of the UN armistice supervisory commission, who asked Nasser on Sunday to halt Fedayeen attacks on Israel or face being branded an aggressor.

Asked to comment on a report he had submitted to Nasser to settle the crisis, he said the report was "very imaginative."

He said nothing more.

Later, a high Egyptian official was asked if Nasser had answered a letter from the UN truce organization requesting the immediate withdrawal of Fedayeen (commando) bands Israel. He replied flatly that "Egypt did not and will not answer the letter."

KNOW YOUR TEACHER

In the belief that parents of children attending schools in the Greater Victoria area are interested in knowing about personalities of the teachers who educate them, The Times continues a series on "Know Your Teacher." The articles will appear three times a week. The Teachers' Association is co-operating.

One of seven teachers on the staff of the new Macaulay School in Esquimalt, Miss Mary Kusnir, 309 Belleville, teaches 38 grade one pupils, most of whom are Esquimalt garrison children.

It is the Fernie girl's first teaching assignment in Victoria, although she lived in the city two years while attending Victoria Normal School.

This personable young teacher prefers to instruct younger children because she finds them easy and pleasant to work with.

She started teaching in her home town in the 1954-55 term, when she was given a class of grade one and two children. Miss Kusnir has been teaching here since last September.

Besides regular class duties, she is in charge of audio-visual aids in the school, which has a total enrolment of about 240.

The books, movies and film strips requested for showing in the school, and takes care of models, charts and other visual aids to instruction.

Dr. K. O. Wright of Dominion Astrophysical Observatory is the new president of Victoria branch of the University Extension Association.

Vice-president is Miss Eleanor Pigott, and honorary secretary-treasurer Mrs. E. E. Livesey.

Guest speaker at the annual meeting was Dr. F. H. Soward, director of international studies at University of British Columbia, who said Russian propaganda during the past year has been more successful than the "muddle-headed Eden-Dulles approach."

His topic was "The International Outlook," compiled from a study of the U.S., Britain, France and Russia in Asia, Europe and the mid-East during 1955.

UNCHANGED

Although the Russian bear is now smiling, he said, his basic nature has not changed.

Russian leaders have conducted a subtle, psychological "smiling offensive" against the west since Stalin died, but world domination is still the Soviet aim.

Arms reduction may be achieved, he said, through introduction of President Eisenhower's "blue sky" arms inspection approach.

Moscow Reveals Death

LONDON (AP)—Pavel Alexandrovich Yudin, Soviet minister of the construction materials industry, died Tuesday in Moscow. He was 53. Cause of death was not given in a Moscow radio announcement. The broadcast described him as "one of the outstanding organizers of Soviet building."

LEUKEMIA TAKES SECOND TWIN

Two-year-old Kathleen Jo Van Lopik, left, of Grand Rapids, Mich., joined her twin sister, Eileen, in death Tuesday. The tiny, bright-eyed girls were victims of leukemia in what doctors called a 1,000,000-to-1 medical rarity. Eileen died six weeks ago. The young parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Van Lopik said today they "can't help wondering" if their unborn child will suffer the same fate.

Four Homeless After Fire Razes Douk Community House

NELSON—Two elderly couples were left homeless Tuesday when fire destroyed one of the Doukhobor community houses at Brilliant, B.C., 15 miles west of here.

RCMP said one person was inside the building, built to house 60 persons, but he escaped uninjured.

Only a few belongings of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Lazoroff and Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Pictin were saved.

Cause of the blaze in the 50-year-old structure was not immediately known.

J. B. Priestly To Visit Canada; Plans Debates

LONDON (AP)—J. B. Priestley, author and perpetual rebel, flies to Canada this week to take part in public debates in five cities. It will be his first comprehensive visit in 25 years.

"I am extremely interested in Canada's development and in what is happening in Canadian life," he told a reporter. "That is the chief reason I have agreed to make this very strenuous trip."

The 62-year-old Yorkshireman, a prolific writer whose book titles take up nearly a column in reference works, says every writer should always be a rebel. He has closely followed his own advice.

In a recent book, "Journey Down a Rainbow," written in collaboration with his wife Jacquetta Hawkes, he expressed alarm at the way the United States is developing a mass civilization.

Among other things, he says the restlessness of the Americans has made them the "tuneless gypsies of the machine age," probably unafraid of anything except silence.

SAYS NOT ANTI-AMERICAN

The book resulted in some complaints that Priestley is anti-American. He denied this in a magazine article, saying it is because he loves the country and its people that he dares to find fault.

$5 LEGAL FEE APPROVED BY VANCOUVER LAWYERS

VANCOUVER—A plan to provide legal advice for a fixed $5 fee was approved in principle by 160 Vancouver lawyers meeting here Tuesday.

Manslaughter Verdict in Murder Trial

NEW WESTMINSTER—James Guthrie, 64, was found guilty Tuesday of manslaughter in the stabbing death last November 29 of Mrs. Helen Cowan, 72.

Guthrie was charged with murder after the elderly woman's body was found under her bed in her White Rock, B.C., home. The jury, however, found him guilty on the lesser charge.

Guthrie, boarding at the Cowan home at the time the woman died, has been remanded to a later date for sentence.

He told the court Mrs. Cowan

came at him waving a knife and screaming. He grappled with her and they fell over a chair, he said.

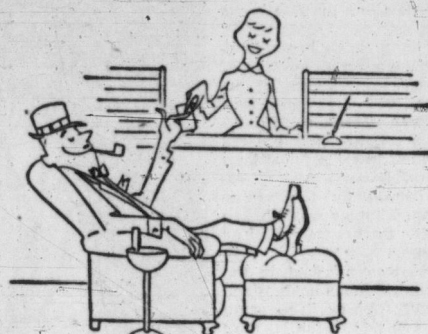

Alberta Grants Aid To London-Bound VCs

EDMONTON (CP)—Premier Manning announced Tuesday

that the provincial government will provide $200 in expense money to Alberta Victoria Cross winners attending the June 26 Victoria Cross centennial celebration in London.

Premier Manning said the money will be for "incidental expenses" in addition to traveling expenses which are to be paid by the federal government.

Second Gas Pipeline Suggested by Drew

(From Times News Services)

Construction of a Canadian-owned natural gas pipeline from Alberta to eastern Canada using railway right-of-way through rugged northern Ontario has been suggested by opposition leader Drew.

He urged Tuesday that the government explore that possibility immediately instead of pinning its hopes on one company—Trans-Canada Pipe Lines Ltd.—to get the line built.

Mr. Drew spoke in the budget debate before a vote that defeated a CCF motion of non-confidence in the government's tax policies.

'Soak the Poor' Says Tory Chief

Mr. Drew said he opposed the motion because it advocated a capital gains tax which would "soak the poor" by taxing value increases of homes and farms.

The eight-day budget debate continues today in its sixth day. Before the House is a Conservative non-confidence motion attacking the March 20 budget of Finance Minister Harris as "empty, negative and partisan."

It accuses the government of unconcern about economic trouble spots and "the growing economic domination of Canada by United States interests."

Mr. Drew, suggesting gas pipeline construction along railway tracks, did not state, who he thinks should build it.

He said the government should see what the railways elimination of the present 20 per cent income tax credit for dividend income. It also said the government has "failed" to reduce the burden of sales and income taxes on lower-income groups.

The CCF was supported by Social Credit members and opposed by Liberals, Progressive Conservatives and two Quebec independents, Paul E. Gagnon (Chicoutimi), and Raul Poulin (Beauce).

can do. At another point he called on the government to examine the possibility of "getting our railway companies to co-operate in this matter in order to have our pipelines controlled by Canadians for the benefit of Canadians."

Ottawa's proposal is for the federal and Ontario governments to build and operate through a crown company the $118,000,000 section of the proposed pipeline through rugged and thinly-populated northern Ontario. Trans-Canada Pipe Lines Ltd. would build the remainder of the 2,280-mile, $375,000,000 line from Alberta to Montreal and lease the northern Ontario link with a purchase option.

Demands Probe of Canada's Defences

Dealing with national defence, Drew said the Canadian Army militia is "hopelessly unprepared and could not mobilize if war came."

Mr. Drew demanded that the state of Canada's defences, including the reserve forces of the armed services be studied by a parliamentary committee.

The militia was the bulwark of defence. Yet any member interested in the militia knew it was unprepared.

Defence affairs should be examined by a standing committee with power to call witnesses. There were standing committees on many topics, none of them as important as defence.

The need for examination was shown in the government's "cynical figure" of estimated defence expenditures in the present fiscal year. It was $1,775,000,000—exactly the same as last year's figure. The amount had been "taken out of the blue" with no attempt made to examine actual defence needs.

Mr. Drew, First World War commander of an artillery battery in France, said every senior military officer freely criticized the present military organization. He mentioned no names but apparently was referring to retired members of the general staff.

He said such officers could be called before a defence committee if it were set up. Their opinions would carry more weight before a committee.

Mr. Drew also renewed his arguments for an airborne army

Olympic Fund Below Quota

TORONTO (BUP)—Canada's participation in the 1956 Olympic Games at Melbourne, Australia, was as far up in the air today as it was before Saturday's annual meeting of the Canadian Olympic Association.

A. S. Dawes, of Montreal, Canada's representative on the International Olympic Council, said only about 50 per cent of the funds needed to send a team to Australia, had so far been raised, and he said any attempts to increase the size of the team, and therefore the costs, would "hurt our original aim."

It was originally decided to send 104 athletes and officials, but at Saturday's meeting requests were made to raise the delegation to 125 persons, at an additional cost of $25,000.

Dawes also said he was concerned whether Canada was getting its best athletes on the team.

"It unfortunately has been our experience," he said, "that there are very few in this country who can compete against the top world athletes, and making any increase in our team might—while encouraging Canadian youngsters—bring very little of a tangible nature."

The association decided to put off until its June 16 meeting in Montreal final decisions on size of the team and total costs.

Kitimat Safe Foiled Robbers

Thieves Got Only $3,700

KITIMAT, B.C. (CP)—Discovery of $25,000 in cash and more than $50,000 in cheques inside a stolen safe Tuesday provided an ironic sequel to a daring weekend robbery attempt at the Hudson's Bay Co. store here.

Believed missing at first when the inverted safe, its bottom punched out, was found abandoned in a concealed spot, the money—from the store's weekend receipts—and the cheques were found intact when the safe was opened by company officials.

RCMP Inspector W. M. Taylor said "It looks as though they only got about $3,700."

He said the thieves apparently missed the loot when the heavy bottom of the safe fell after being chiselled out, pinning the money underneath.

EXITES GUARDED

"Either they thought there was no money inside or they needed extra tools to lift out the bottom and left," said one policeman.

The theft was discovered Sunday when a company employee returned to the store office to finish some work. Police said the raid took place Saturday night.

A team of 11 RCMP officers immediately clamped rigid surveillance over the only three means of exit from this aluminium smelter community 450 miles north of Vancouver.

Inspector Taylor said four men are believed to have taken part in the "smooth job" to move the 500-pound safe on to a truck. It was found 2½ miles from the store, concealed beside a busy road.

Trumans Eschew Middle East On Europe Tour

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Former president Truman said Tuesday his forthcoming European tour will avoid the Middle East because of current unrest in that area.

The former president and Mrs. Truman will sail from New York on the liner United States, May 11, and will return to New York on July 3.

R. DOUGLAS STUART

Stuart Resigns As U.S. Envoy; Name Successor

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—President Eisenhower today accepted the resignation of R. Douglas Stuart, 70, as ambassador to Canada and nominated Livingston T. Merchant, now an assistant secretary of state, to succeed him.

James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, said Stuart is leaving because of "personal and business reasons."

Merchant, whose nomination is subject to Senate confirmation, now is assistant secretary of state for European affairs.

He accompanied Eisenhower to the summit conference at Geneva last July and also was at White Sulphur Springs, W.Va., last month for the president's talks with Canadian and medical leaders.

Government House officials here said today the resignation of Ambassador Stuart would not alter plans for his announced visit Monday.

The ambassador and his wife will be guests of Lieutenant Governor and Mrs. Frank Ross at Government House April 16, 17 and 18.

180 Pledge Aid For City's Aged

100 Organizations Set All-Out Drive To Get Housing for Senior Citizens

First co-ordinated step towards low-cost housing for the aged in Victoria was taken at the organizational meeting Tuesday of a central planning committee on problems of the aged.

The over-all committee will send delegates interested in housing for the aged to a meeting April 18, at 8 p.m., in Spencerhouse, with city welfare administrator William Hoosen in the chair.

Nearly 180 delegates representing more than 100 local organizations and senior citizens gathered at city hall for the exploratory session under Community Welfare Council.

Sub-Committees Face Big Task

Capt. Proudfoot explained the committee would not provide housing, nor collect money to build. It will be up to the sub-committees to study matters under their control and provide advisory aid where possible.

He suggested monthly meetings for the sub-committees, quarterly meetings for the over-all group.

Within 18 months, he thought, there would be a fund of information at the disposal of separate groups planning aid to the aged.

Ed Mallek, chairman of Kiwanis Club's Kiwanis Village project for the aged, warned that whatever steps are taken by any group toward providing low-cost housing, it should be borne in mind that no financial aid can be expected from the federal government. He said statements of one-third of total cost in the form of a federal loan are incorrect.

Ottawa Has Power to Help

"Why can't they put up half the $10,000,000 to provide some place for the pensioners?" "Pensions are hopelessly inadequate," George W. Murray said. "Ottawa holds the key."

We can start here, but it must spread throughout Canada.

"Ministers have a wonderful power. Let them come out and demand higher pensions. We need leaders—political parties, women's organizations, churches, and all groups."

Rev. Canon G. Biddle, St. John's church, agreed that pensions are too low and suggested the court house here, destined for demolition, be utilized for housing the elderly.

Speaking for the aims of the central committee, Capt. Proudfoot said:

"We won't promise anything overnight. It's a hard grind. We promise nothing; it's only a beginning. We have no solutions, only suggestions."

W. A. R. Hadley, Community Welfare Council, read a paper on rehabilitation prepared by Mrs. H. J. Sceats, a member of the committee. Chief problems outlined with which the elderly are handicapped were:

Inadequate income; lack of suitable employment; poor, inadequate housing; chronic illness; inactivity, loneliness and loss of interest resulting in mental abnormalities; inadequate recreation and lack of social contact; lack of home nursing services; need for occupational and physiotherapy; need for boarding homes.

A central co-ordinating agency was seen as a solution to these problems.

effort to devise a similar method.

Recreation, on which Dr. Henrietta Anderson spoke, has flourished for the last eight or nine years, and not a single social group for the elderly has folded yet, which proves the need of such organizations.

They, in turn, need a single centre—"a place where we all could meet," the doctor said. Mrs. F. Chappell, president of branch No. 5, Old Age Pensioners' Association, agreed with this view.

Ribbon Development Starting

DISREGARDING PROFESSIONAL advice, Saanich Council has rezoned property on Burnside, near the Trans-Canada Highway, for motel purposes.

By its action the council has stumbled into two errors. It has once again discounted the value of expert recommendations in planning development. And, more important, it has set a precedent which could lead to ribbon development on the express highway.

By itself, the proposed auto court need not create a great hazard. Nor will it necessarily slow traffic on the highway below present speed limits if access from the court is channelled through existing entry roads.

But, as Mr. Brahm Wiesman, capital regional planner, points out, this is the thin edge of the wedge. If one person is given permission to build a motel in the area, on what grounds will Saanich later deny others the same right? How long will it be before the protected area adjacent to the highway is nibbled away and ribbon development destroys entirely the purpose for which the new outlet was built?

The Provincial and Federal Governments paid a high price to provide the new highway. It was constructed to speed up the flow of traffic into and out of the city. Everyone in Greater Victoria is concerned.

This point was clearly recognized by Mr. Wiesman when he submitted recommendations to the Saanich authorities. Dealing specifically with that section of the highway he suggested "that all or a part of the land should be zoned in depth as a commercial centre including warehousing and truck terminals; that auto courts and motels should be excluded."

Saanich has, admittedly come face to face with a difficult decision. The stretch of highway in the immediate vicinity is a transition zone in which speed limits rise from slow to high.

But difficult as the decision was the council must understand its nature as a test. If the motel is built, then the dike against ribbon development is breached.

And once the familiar roadside commercial growth takes place, the express highway becomes just another road—and in a general locality where there are plenty of roads for the type of development the motel interests propose.

Under existing legislation the Provincial Government has limited control. It can act only where direct access is sought to the highway itself. But if Saanich fails to protect the express way, then it will be up to the Government to act at the next session.

The Government can do just that by over-riding the municipal regulation in order to protect the huge public investment made on the new outlet.

A Full Inquiry Is Essential

PREMIER BENNETT RETURNED from his holiday-rest, no doubt refreshed and with his mind more sharply attuned to assess grassroots sentiment on his current provincial tour.

As he weighs public reaction, he must be keenly aware of the anger and resentment stirred by the Government's handling—or mishandling—of the Sturdy affair. He will not be deceived by any statements, his own included, playing the issue down. He knows that questions concerning the Government's integrity have been raised and left unanswered. He must feel the people's dissatisfaction over Mr. Sommers' unproved charges against the opposition and the timber industry.

The premier will not convince himself or anyone else that the issues now troubling the public can be settled within the narrow confines of a private libel action.

The CCF is right in its convention resolution stating "the calculated silence of Premier W. A. C. Bennett on the issues which resulted in the resignation of Robert Sommers is an outrage that should not be tolerated by a democratic people."

Mr. Bennett should take a second look, end the extraordinary silence which he has wrapped around the incident and give the people the royal commission inquiry they want.

A Little Freedom . . .

THE BASIC WEAKNESS OF communism—its dependence on force and totalitarian leadership—is becoming apparent in Yugoslavia. The decrease in oppressive control of party members that has taken place over the past year or two has resulted in a serious decline in the loyalty and doctrinal enthusiasm of party followers.

The new situation is freely admitted by President Tito. At the recent party leadership conference in Belgrade it was revealed that within the last five years membership has fallen by more than a quarter of a million.

But there has been more than loss of numbers. There is a real battle of ideas going on within the party. Younger members have been affected by western influences—"slipped from our hands," as Marshal Tito put it—and have accepted "reactionary" concepts.

In this regard they perhaps are conforming to youthful approaches throughout the world. In the West it is common for youth to rebel against the accepted social system and look to leftist movements for a panacea. In most cases this is a passing phase and the individual comes to recognize that the "rebel" philosophies do not hold all the answers.

The Negro's Reply

WHEN A HUNDRED MEMBERS of the U.S. Congress from the South attacked the Supreme Court's desegregation ruling as illegal, Negro leaders were slow to reply. The most striking comment came from Mr. Thurgood Marshall, chief counsel for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. He condemned the statement of the southern politicians as a certain incitement to violence even though they had proposed only lawful resistance to the law.

How, asked Mr. Marshall, was it possible for members of the Congress to denounce a Supreme Court decision as illegal and then to urge lawful resistance in the South? "White hoodlums and mobs," he said, would use the Congressional statement to justify new outrages against the Negro race.

It must have been shocking to all thoughtful Americans to hear Mr. Marshall say that his association might be forced to go underground in several southern states for physical safety. Even if they were terrorized in the South, he added, the Negroes' campaign against segregation would go on with increased vigor in the North.

The passionate feelings of the Negroes are described by Mr. Freedman, a noted Canadian journalist now in Washington. Attending one of their protest meetings he found them filled with "almost dedicated passion." It is obvious, Mr. Freedman writes, "That they have been outraged by the unpunished murder of youthful Emmitt Till, angered by the treatment of Miss Lucy at the University of Alabama and exalted by the unity which sustains the economic boycott against the bus system in Montgomery."

Clearly desegregation is building up into a great issue which can hardly be excluded from this year's election campaign and which may split the Democratic Party. Its southern wing is solidly opposed to the Supreme Court decision. Its northern wing can hardly support this view without alienating millions of Negro and white voters.

But one election, however it turns out, will not settle this ancient problem or end a historic tragedy.

Intercontinental Missiles

Chips

BY DAVID BROCK

I WENT to see Olivier's "Richard the Third" movie the other day, in Vancouver. I found it perhaps less perfect than some of my friends did. But since I plan to see it at least once more, and perhaps twice more, I think I am at least as fair as anyone who thinks once is enough.

And perhaps in my own way I enjoyed at least some of the film as much as did anyone who just said the whole thing was wonderful and who thought me a dull-headed fellow for not just saying "Wonderful!" too.

Parts of the film are wonderful. And of the parts that seemed to me somewhat less than wonderful, not all would be Olivier's fault. Some would be the fault of the art itself, the whole art of film-making. And a few would probably be Shakespeare's. . . . If I am allowed to say that sort of thing and remain unlynched.

For example, it has never been plain to me why the Lady Anne was willing to marry Richard III in such a sudden reversal of her taste, or to marry him at all. After all, he had killed her father not long before, and killed her husband as the play begins. The wedding scene will never be convincing, and for this we must blame Shakespeare rather than Sir Laurence Olivier and Miss Claire Bloom. For all we know, Shakespeare may have felt his lack of sense added to the nightmare effect. But once you stop wondering why the Lady Anne did it, and start wondering why Shakespeare did it, then you are watching a puppet show and not a play.

And this is true of practically all the characters in the play. . . . they are Richard's puppets. That this was Shakespeare's intention is probably true. . . . though I do not think he would have written such a play in his maturer days. There is no real contest between wills in the play. . . . the only will is Richard's.

THIS suits the great star actors, of course, and has always suited audiences who go to see a star. The villainy of Richard has also suited audiences for three and a half centuries. . . . Richard III was the author's most popular work in his own lifetime, when it starred the great Burbage. . . . blood and Burbage: what more could the audience want?

It says a great deal for Sir Laurence's production that it makes so many of the characters come partly alive. . . . as alive as the lines permit them. Sir Ralph Richardson as Buckingham is wonderful. . . . I will use that word gladly. For a long time I didn't realize it was the great Sir Ralph at all (I had read very little about the film, and had forgotten that little). I just thought "This man Buckingham is very good, he knows what he's doing."

THERE seemed to me to be a tremendous amount of mere yelling in some parts of the film (including Clarence on the subject of his dream). At one point my companion said, "Is this Richard III or is it the Goon Show?" Unfair, and yet fair enough. I seem to remember a little yelling in the Hamlet and Henry V shows, but I was not so conscious of it as here.

Stars have liked the Richard part before now for its opportunity to do a spot of the old rant-and-roar. Not that Olivier rants all the time. Far from it. To offset it, there are some delightfully quiet touches. For example, the faintly absurd line about "Richard is himself again" is turned into a distinct asset by being whispered to his horse.

HORSES. Some of the battle scenes were in a way magnificent, but I got lost in them. Who was doing what and why? I didn't always know. As for the much-admired spasms and wriggling of the dying Richard. . . . I don't know. It may have added to somebody's enjoyment. Perhaps it was meant to look animal in some symbolic way. But the little princes also wriggled, under the bedding, as they were being smothered, and they were no more being symbolic of anything than they were being great artists while twitching. Perhaps Olivier just likes having a go at disgusting us. So did the Elizabethans.

Symbols. Sometimes I get a little tired of artistic shots which draw the attention to some emblematic object. For example, a bellows dangling over Richard's head, menacingly like a hangman's rope, reminding us his death is not far off. A portent arranged by a clever camera for a clever audience can sometimes be good, but it can also remind you that a camera is there and being used, used terribly selectively.

AS for the costumes and sets, and lighting and all. . . . well, it is a sign of Olivier's many triumphs that we now expect a tremendously high standard from him as a matter of course. . . . as, obviously, he expects (and gets) a tremendously high standard from himself. When one or two of the sets were merely good instead of superb, I felt somehow cheated. . . . till I caught myself being so niggardly. One of these sets, by the way, was too new and cardboardly a wall, as a background to a grave. Why not set the grave against a real wall? In staging a film costing millions of dollars, it must be very easy to fall into a build-it-yourself mood, and sometimes this is worse than wasteful.

Well, let me not fall into a tear-the-film-to-bits mood till I have seen it again. I'll not be bored, the second time round. And it played for about 135 minutes. So I'm not just yawning and sneering. Anything but.

Arrangements

May I ask for space to comment on the photo and remarks in last Saturday's Times.

"Victoria, the Garden City." You are to be congratulated on bringing this unsightly mess to the public's attention. And I would greatly appreciate it if I am allowed to offer a suggestion to remedy this eyesore.

Use the large parking lot on Government Street next to the Empress Hotel gardens to build the proposed $1,500,000 new court house, set it back as far as possible to line up with the Parliament Buildings. Landscape the front of the new government building grounds.

Set the world's tallest totem in the front of the new building and it would give an added tourist attraction and at the same time add dignity to this most important part of the Garden City.

I feel sure if the powers to be decided on something of this nature they would find ways and means to provide the Civil Service with parking space behind the Parliament Buildings.

On Defensive

Several letters to the press by James Higgins, A. C. MacFayden, etc., would imply that Her Majesty's Loyal Opposition should not do the job it was elected for and by tradition it is in duty bound, to do.

The Socreds take the attitude of "We can do no wrong," are only too ready to criticize others into the ground and state that any criticism no matter how warranted should not be permitted.

Most of the trouble in the House was due to that sort of attitude displayed by the Socreds members. I attended many sittings and it was quite evident the Socreds resented even faint criticism and seemed to be always on the defensive.

It would seem that the Socreds members generally need to learn what the Opposition is meant to do and if their position is right they have nothing to fear from questions by, or actions of, the Opposition.

What have these letter writers to say in answer to Mr. Bennett's refusal to hold a simple judicial enquiry into the Sommers-Sturdy affair? Surely they must realize that an overwhelming majority of the people want such an enquiry?

Too Much Protection?

BY STEWART ALSOP, From Washington

ARE President Eisenhower's subordinates so eager to protect him from worry and strain that matters of great international importance are concealed from him, or their significance obscured? This question is prompted by the President's answers to certain questions at his most recent press conference. He was twice asked whether he and Prime Minister Anthony Eden had been in recent communication about the Middle Eastern crisis. He was specifically asked whether Eden had recently sent him an important message stressing the gravity of the crisis, and the urgent need for taking action to head off the danger.

Alsop

Honestly Puzzled

The President seemed honestly puzzled by the questions. Prime Minister Eden and he quite often exchanged messages, he said, and they often contained references to the Middle East. But, he said, "I am certain it is no recent thing they must be talking about." He was sure he said that there had been no message from Eden since "some time before" he went to White Sulphur Springs on March 24.

He speculated that perhaps "They are talking about a recent message I haven't received yet." Overall, he left the strong impression that there had been no new, urgent, or important views expressed by Prime Minister Eden on the Middle Eastern crisis.

Asked whether the British had been pressing the administration to take a firmer line in the Middle East, the President replied: "Well, if they have, they haven't pressed me."

These Presidential responses are mysterious. The questions were largely prompted by a report, which first appeared a week ago in this space in a dispatch from London, that Eden had sent a grave message to the President stressing the growing danger in the Middle East, and the urgent need for basic joint policy decisions for dealing with the crisis. This report was confirmed and elaborated in subsequent dispatches in the British press and elsewhere.

Pressing Need

The facts, which are indisputable, are as follows. About two weeks ago a high official of the American Embassy in London was summoned to hear the views of Prime Minister Eden. Gravely and even grimly, the Prime Minister held forth at length about the danger in the Middle East and the pressing need for joint decisions and action by the Anglo-American allies.

Eden indicated that he had called in the American official to make sure that the President knew his views of the situation. The American was naturally impressed by the responsibility involved in reporting a statement so grave as the Prime Minister's. He therefore asked

All of the four leading newspapers can't be wrong as Mr. Higgins says. The Socreds have thrown plenty of mud, many of them don't want to give past governments credit for anything.

FRANK H. PARTRIDGE,
1604 Belmont Ave.

Time for Revival?

In "Ask the Times" of Wednesday, April 4, "O.P." asked if there was an "Independent Order of Good Templars" in Victoria. While there is no lodge here now, there are a number of old members.

A number of years back there were about seven lodges in Greater Victoria, but the war took all our young members and left us with too small a membership to carry on, and so, one by one, the different lodges ceased to meet. No effort has since been made to start again.

It would indeed be gratifying to see the L.O.G.T. start to blossom in Victoria once more.

Schools and Taxes

In an editorial in the Times of March 29 you quote School Board Chairman W. H. Goldby as saying "I do feel every citizen is paying no greater proportion of his income than he has been in former years."

While this may be so in respect to members of various unions who periodically demand, and get, an increase in wages, it certainly is not correct as regards the many retired people in Greater Victoria living on a fixed income or pension, and the School Board would do well to recognize this. Many school taxes have more than doubled in the last ten years, while my income has not increased at all—in fact its purchasing power has decreased—owing to the constant demand of workers for higher pay and the consequent increase in the cost of living.

In the same editorial you state "The trustees are elected by the same voters who choose councils." True, but there is a marked difference between electing councils and school trustees. The voters in each municipality elect their own council and it is within their power to elect whom they wish, but it is not so in the case of school trustees who are elected by the voters of the four municipalities collectively and any one municipality has to accept those trustees so elected whether it voted for them or not and thus they may not be the elected representatives of the people of that particular municipality or in other words that municipality has no control over the election of school trustees. I think Reeve Ash is perfectly justified in calling for details of estimated current expenditures of the School Board. Even such details as what it costs to take children by bus from school to the Crystal Gardens for swimming.

Can you suggest any practical method by which ratepayers can show their disapproval of the rapidly rising costs of education or should I "Ask The Times."

R. COATES,
Baynes Road.
(Editor's Note: The most practical protest can be lodged at the polls.)

Eden's permission to quote him verbatim on certain points, to assure absolute accuracy.

Eden thereupon himself wrote out a message, clearly intended for the President, which included the warning that major decisions might be not just a matter of days, but even a matter of hours.

Such are the facts. In view of these facts, there seem to be only three ways of explaining the President's answers to his press conference question.

One theoretical explanation is that the President, for diplomatic or other reasons, was being disingenuous. But this explanation can almost certainly be dismissed. The President is not a dissembler by nature, and his replies clearly suggested that he was honestly puzzled by the questions.

Another possible explanation is that the Eden message somehow got bogged down in the labyrinthine bureaucracy of the State Department. But it seems hard to believe that even the State Department could lose track of an extremely important message on a major international crisis from the British Prime Minister, in which the Prime Minister himself laid heavy emphasis on the hour-by-hour urgency of the crisis.

Likely Explanation

The only other conceivable explanation is that the message from Eden was not transmitted to the President at all, or transmitted in such a way that its significance was wholly obscured. This seems the most likely explanation. It is also the most disturbing.

Even before the President's heart attack, there was a strong tendency to go to great lengths to spare him unnecessary worry. Since the attack, the tendency has been greatly strengthened.

This is natural enough and even laudable within limits. But the limits are surely passed when such a message as Eden's is either concealed from the President, or its meaning muffled. The President himself, who has privately complained on occasion of his subordinates' tendency to over-protect him, is certainly aware that a Chief Executive of the United States cannot function properly if he is wrapped in yards of cotton batting.

LAST LAP

You know how the Lapps go fishing in the winter in the lakes? It is very interesting and very simple. You crawl out along the ice, the transparent ice, until you can see below the surface the movements of the fish, and then as soon as you get over it you give it a terrific clunk with a big chunk of wood and concussion stuns the fish. They turn over on their backs, float to the surface and you chop through the ice and just lift your fish out of the water.

Douglas Trevillion-Watson, British writer.

ON THE D.E.W. LINE

Big Money...Fierce Cold

RADAR SITE Q, Canadian Arctic (CP)—Flarepath!

The airstrip lights—nothing more than smudgepots set out by hand—loom suddenly and inconspicuously out of the snowy Arctic nothingness. They are a comforting sight after not a sign of life for hours in the empty reaches above the Arctic circle.

This is the airstrip for the first eastern Arctic radar station in the DEW (Distant Early Warning) line.

The winter strip—at 30 degrees below zero it is still considered winter even up here—is on a lake where the ice is at least six feet thick. As the pilots who land on the strip with 90-ton loads say: "If your hat doesn't float, the ice is strong enough."

The only shelter near the strip is a small, white tent for the maintenance crew. Empty orange-and-black oil drums are placed along the strip to mark it for daytime landings.

From the strip, a one-lane road winds for two miles through steep-banked snow up the hill to the radar site itself on the crown. The station commands a splendid view but one soon tires of the same scene.

Snow and wind-smothered rock, mile upon mile upon mile. The site will comprise only two buildings—the radar station, put together from five prefabricated buildings hauled to the site by tractor train, and a garage. The small crew which will eventually man the one-storey station will have living quarters in it.

Construction started Feb. 2, 1955 when Phil Kelly and Mike Petrychn of Toronto and a handful of others were brought by ski-plane and left standing in the dead of winter in the middle of the Arctic.

"They just put us down and left us in the middle of nowhere," Kelly, the general foreman, recalls. "But we didn't have much time to think about it. We had to put up shelter—and fast."

The first shelters were tents. The next job was to clear an airstrip on the snow-covered lake. "We got a good start," said Petrychn, a tractor operator. "But then it stormed for 11 days and 11 nights. After that, we had to start all over again."

Kelly and Petrychn are the only two of the originals left now. Workers sign on for five months with Foundation Company of Montreal, contractor for the eastern end of the $400,000,000 DEW line along the 70th parallel.

James Carolan of Winnipeg and Montreal, travelling camp supervisor on the line, said about 85 per cent of the workers are Canadians. The turnover of the DEW labor force is not as great as one might expect and many men sign on for second stints after two weeks on the "outside."

Hugh Carroll, 27, of Paisley, Scotland, and now of Moncton, N.B., commented sadly: "I was rich for a while up here but I stayed outside too long and lost it all."

Carroll, steamfitter, is starting all over again and plans to go to college next year in the Maritimes.

Because all the men can buy at the site are cigarettes and chocolate bars—there is no beer or liquor—they can save $400 a month without much difficulty.

Roland Duchesne of Montreal, for instance, makes $254 an hour as an electrician and works a 59-hour week. He has been here 4½ months and plans to return after a two-week vacation with his wife and two children.

Duchesne said a friend of his "earned $1,000 a month."

Judge Lifts Injunction On Unionists

An injunction against carpenters' and piledrivers' union locals in Victoria restraining them from interfering with a March 28 collective agreement granted to G. H. Wheaton, Ltd., contractors, was set aside by Mr. Justice A. D. Macfarlane in Supreme Court Tuesday.

The injunction was granted when three carpenters of the firm left a job of re-decking the wooden CPR wharf here when their union ruled that the work was within the jurisdiction of the Pile Drivers' local.

The injunction taken by the firm claimed the carpenters had committed a breach of the collective agreement when they stopped work. It was also alleged that the Pile Drivers' Union counselled and abetted the men to walk off the job.

In his judgment, Mr. Justice Macfarlane said there was no need for the injunction as the work on the CPR wharf had been postponed until after the summer season.

"I don't think an injunction should stand, once the need disappears," he said.

Alpine Club Party Back From Rockies

Party of 30 members of the Alpine Club of Canada and their friends have just returned from 10 days skiing at the Columbia Icefields 70 miles south of Jasper near the boundary of Jasper National Park.

Much very good downhill running was enjoyed on Mount Athabasca and on the Dome and Stutfield glaciers. The highlight of the expedition was a ski climb of Mount Snowdon, 11,340 feet in height, and the geographical apex of the North American continent. Thirteen members of the party reached the summit on Friday, April 6, after skiing on ropes through the dangerously crevassed area at the head of the Athabasca glacier.

From this snow peak, glaciers drain into the Pacific, the Arctic and the Atlantic Oceans. A successful winter ascent was also made of Mount Wilcox, 9,463 feet high.

Cooking Herbs Can Decorate

The growing conditions required by perennial cooking herbs suggest several methods of displaying their attractive qualities.

They may be used as part of the decorative planting near the rear house door, where they will be handy to gather when needed for that last-minute flavoring.

The current trend for outdoor boxes of planters suggests that ideal conditions exist in them for such handsome plants as rosemary, lavender, sage and thyme. Sunshine, drainage and a warm soil not too rich, are ideal for fine flavor and appearance.

A second planter might contain the combination of a single plant each of parsley, chives, tarragon and mint. The mint should be planted in a pot or can of richer soil, and plunged to its rim in the planter, otherwise the invasive roots will overrun its less aggressive neighbors.

A raised bed near the back door could be substituted for a planter. If the perennial herbs

Not bothering to wait for a further command, the boy quickly brought his hands down, grabbed his pants, and returned them to their normal position.

Nose Bleeds

Dr. Alvarez is Emeritus Consultant in Medicine, Mayo Clinic and Emeritus Professor of Medicine, Mayo Foundation.

Some persons ask why they are having repeated nose-bleeds. Commonly, what starts bleeding is picking at the nose or blowing it so hard as to tear off a little crust that has formed. In the cases of many a nose-bleed, no one can say why it came.

When older persons get many nose-bleeds it is well to have an examination made to see if they have a high blood pressure or some other serious disease.

In rare cases in which the person has repeated severe nose-bleeds, a specialist should look to see if the man was born with tiny tumors, perhaps smaller than the head of a pin, made up of thin-walled blood vessels, and scattered through the nose and throat. When the blood vessels in these little red nodules break, the person has a bad nose-bleed. The disease runs in families. If a good nose specialist can burn out all of the little tumors this will put an end to the bleeding.

Another rare cause for nose-bleeds is a tendency to bleed all over the body. This, again, may be hereditary. Usually the person knows that whenever he has cut himself or has had a tooth extracted he has had difficulty in stopping the bleeding, and hence a good blood specialist should make an examination to see exactly what the difficulty is. Sometimes he can do something that will help.

Some persons suffer from a fragility of the tiny blood vessels. They may get black and blue splotches under the skin, when they cannot remember having bumped themselves. They should be examined by a specialist in diseases of the blood or blood vessels to see what has gone wrong.

Many persons get cramps in the legs, usually at night. They may have to jump out of bed to walk around for a while. That is the best way in which to get rid of the cramp. So far as I can learn, the two commonest causes for these cramps are (1) too little calcium in the blood, and (2) the drinking of too much coffee. The drinking of milk, instead of coffee, helps in two ways: (1) it cuts down on the amount of coffee taken, and (2) it gives the person his needed calcium. Calcium lessens the irritability of the nervous system. Persons who much dislike milk or are highly allergic to it can take at bedtime a tablespoonful of a syrup of the gluconate of calcium.

BUNIONS: CAN ANYTHING BE DONE?

A woman tells me that for 20 years she has been wearing shoes so small that they have forced her big toes over into the middle of her foot. As a result, the joint between the big toe and the foot projects at a sharp angle into her shoe, and hurts her terribly. The thing for her to do is to go to a good orthopedist, or perhaps a general surgeon who can reconstruct the joint so that the big toe will point straight ahead as it did when she was a child. The surgeon will not be able to promise a perfect result because much may depend on how much arthritis she will have in the joint. But she should be better.

This woman's experience should be a lesson to all young women who like to cram their feet into shoes that are too short and too pointed. Every woman ought occasionally to look at a baby to see what a foot should look like. I do not expect many women to wear sensible shoes; they won't wear them; they want to be beautiful and this is the all-important consideration!

INFECTIOUS MONONUCLEOSIS

Many troubled persons want to know what is infectious mononucleosis. It is an infectious disease, presumably due to a virus. In the old days, it was sometimes called glandular fever because lymph nodes in the neck and elsewhere became enlarged. The disease can be recognized by an expert on blood when he looks at the stained blood smears or when he performs a test for the so-called heterophile antibody.

Fortunately, in most cases, the disease is self-limited and will clear up in a few months without treatment. Fortunately, also, in many cases the symptoms are fairly mild and there are no bad end-results. As yet there does not seem to be any treatment that will quickly put an end to the illness.

Oil-Rich Iraq Holds Piece In West's Mid-East Puzzle

By WILLIAM L. RYAN

BAGHDAD, Iraq (AP)—Iraq is the bright spot in the Middle East. But against the background of Middle Eastern politics the outlook is becoming increasingly gloomy.

Left to herself and her forward-looking, hopeful program for the future of her people, Iraq surely would become the leader of the Arab world. But there are tremendous obstacles—the threat of war, the threat of Soviet power to the north, the eternal feuds, intrigues and jealousies of the Arab world.

Saudi Arabian money pours into a campaign to subvert the regime of a man who has the look of a statesman in a part of the world sadly lacking in statesmen. The Saudi Arabian feud with the Hashemite family ruling Jordan and Iraq is deep and centuries old, and the Saudi Arabians fear that Iraq leadership will lead one day to a unified fertile crescent, a powerful union of Iraq, Jordan and Syria.

Egypt's revolutionary regime under its premier, Lt.-Col. Gamal Abdel Nasser, makes a strange alliance with the feudal Saudi Arabians in the hope of ruining the Baghdad Pact—of which Iraq is a member—or rendering it futile.

WORRIED GOVERNMENT

Iraq is governed by a statesmanlike premier, Gen. Nuri Said. His government seems worried. Boy king Faisal II's Hashemite cousin Hussein holds the shaky throne of Jordan, to the southwest.

If a Saudi Arabian, Egyptian and Palestinian-Arab intrigue should overthrow young Faisal, Iraq would lose her steady influence in Jordan and probably in Syria too and might be forced into a compromise with the Egyptian-Saudi-Syrian bloc which is hellbent for subverting the Baghdad Pact.

The pull of Arabism is strong. Propaganda and passion against the pact are enormous in Arab countries whose people regard it as insurance for the continued existence of Israel.

Nuri—everyone calls him the Pasha—is held in awe in Iraq and is regarded with violent jealousy by some leaders in other Arab areas. Though in effect he is a benevolent dictator of this oil-rich country, his rule is forward-looking.

It seems likely Nuri would like nothing better than a reasonable settlement of the Israeli question to remove the threat of war. Publicly he cannot say he will tolerate the continued existence of Israel. But in a country 84 per cent illiterate, it would be possible to direct public opinion if there were no interference from other Arab propaganda playing constantly on the passions of an emotional and unstable people.

PEASANTS POOR

Like the fellah in Egypt the barefoot Iraqi peasant has been unchanged over the centuries. He lives in the same mud hut with his cow, chickens or goat. Like Egypt's fellah, the average Iraqi is ridden by a variety of diseases

There is danger—great danger—to the West. A charming man with a disarming manner is one of the most dangerous foes in the Middle East of Iraq and the West.

Tall, affable Khaled Bagdash, orator, writer and leader of disciplined Syrian and Lebanese Communists, attended Moscow's 20th party congress in February. Long after the noisier and more prominent Red leaders left, Bagdash still was there. He had much to talk over with the bosses and it concerned Middle East oil.

Across the territory of Syria run pipelines which carry at least 30 per cent of the Middle East oil from Iraq and the Persian Gulf, pipelines of the Iraq Petroleum Co. and American tapline. If the Communist party could make an alliance giving it a measure of control in Syria, it could deal both Iraq and the West a heavy blow. And they say in the Middle East if ever communism gains a foothold in the area, Syria will become the first satellite. Already Communist influence is strong in the army, particularly in army intelligence.

COMMUNISTS DWINDLE

Iraq's Interior Minister Said Qazaz says Iraq's Communist strength is dwindling and the hard core is down to a few hundred because Iraq's development program already is being felt in higher wages and full employment. He says the Iraqi Communists get their instructions from Bagdash in Syria. Qazaz regards Bagdash as the Communist leader of the entire Middle East.

Nuri and those who admire him place much hope of the development program to build dams, irrigation projects, industries, schools, housing, hospitals and the like. The first five-year portion of the program is complete and the government has earmarked more than $1,000,000,000 for the next five years.

Under the Iraqi development law of 1950 70 per cent of oil royalties, now more than $250,000,000 annually, goes to public works and 30 per cent to the government's operating budget. But even this program has dangers. The program may be going ahead too fast, bringing inflation, the beginnings of which already are evident.

Nuri is being advised by Westerners to complete the groundwork first. This includes first ending the threat of disastrous floods. This is being done. But Western advisers feel Iraq should take advantage of the present favorable revenue situation by building dams, irrigating, building industry and laying the foundations for an agricultural economy of the future, if ever the revenues prove exhaustible in a crisis.

SERIOUS THREAT

A Middle East war would be a serious blow to the hopes of Nuri and Iraq have placed in this program, possibly even ending it. Westerners say Nuri might be strengthened if the United States joined the Baghdad Pact. Outside the pact as an observer, the United States has all the disadvantages and none of the advantages of a member, since the northern-tier defense is an American conception and pinned on the United States by the Arabs who mistrust and fear it. The pact now includes Turkey, Iraq, Iran, Pakistan and Britain.

Repercussions from the United States' joining the pact would be loud in Cairo. Nasser's anger seems to arise from the fact he regards 68-year-old Nuri and Iraq with a jealous eye as a potential leader of the whole Arab world with U.S. and British support.

But Nuri seems to have no such pretensions. Observers here think he is sincere in wanting an Arab states understanding. Even domestically Nuri seems to want to shun an appearance of great personal power, wants apparently to leave behind him a stable structure like Britain's two-party system to ensure Iraq's future. His great influence and great power apparently are being used toward laudable aims which—like aspects of Egypt's revolution—are an expression of rising Arab pride.

But laudable aims are insufficient to ensure this country's future. Unless the Israeli situation somehow is settled, Iraq is in as great danger as any other Middle Eastern country—and the West is in danger of losing its best friend in this part of the world where Western policies have few friends.

Home Owners Pace Council In Planning

High level of interest in Esquimalt community development is proven by council's passing of 40 to 50 local improvement by-laws in the past 18 months.

Public works chairman James Bryant reported to council Monday night a total of 52 property owners' petitions for sewers, sidewalks, curbs and gutters were received and approved in the last year and a half.

Final reading was given Monday to three local improvement by-laws for curbs and gutters on Lyall, and on each for Swinford, Heald and Constance.

First readings were given to a similar by-law for Kinver Street. Council will hold a public hearing April 23 at 7 p.m. to hear representations prior to drawing up a by-law to re-zone part of a lot on Head Street, between Esquimalt Road and Bryden, from residential to retail.

Councillors approved a Lions Club request to hold a carnation tag day May 12 to raise funds for Little League baseball.

ONE TRAGEDY A DAY

No Illusions Held At Cancer Clinic

The man ahead of us stubbed his cigarette, put down his magazine and went with the nurse to see the doctor as casually as the dozen people before him.

He had no way of knowing that he was today's cancer case for Greater Victoria—that the odds were almost two to one he was going to die soon.

The man ahead of us didn't know much about cancer. To him it is something that happens to other people. Yet he had been expected. No one knew what hour he'd arrive, or even his name, or whether it would be a man or a woman. But Victoria Cancer Clinic staff knew from ever-increasing statistics that a new cancer victim would appear today.

In Victoria an average of one new case appears every day. Only 35 per cent will be cured. TYPICAL CASE

Like most men who contract cancer, the man ahead of us was just over 40, and his affliction was centred in his digestive tract. For a long time, too long a time, he'd noticed a slight difficulty in swallowing food, a heaviness behind the chest bone.

Or it may have been indigestion or a vague uneasiness after a meal, distaste for some foods, particularly meat. His wife may have made him go to the doctor because he was pale, looked fatigued or anemic. It may have been loss of weight, discharge of blood, persistent constipation or diarrhoea.

He didn't know that such cancer is painless in its early stages and symptoms are so slight and confusing they seem hardly worth bothering about.

That is cancer's greatest ally. If the man ahead of us loses his sorry gamble, his death certificate should show ignorance as the cause of death.

Advertisers Pay Top Rate Says Dunton

OTTAWA (CP)—A. D. Dunton, CBC board chairman, today said the CBC does not sell United television shows to advertisers for less than it pays for them.

In the Commons Tuesday, Progressive Conservative leader Drew said the CBC subsidizes U.S. programs by selling them to Canadian advertisers for an average 40 per cent less than it pays U.S. producers.

"Advertisers pay the full costs for all sponsored American shows carried on CBC networks or facilities," Mr. Dunton said.

"The advertisers also pay full regular network and station time rates, and the CBC and private affiliated stations make a profit in carrying such programs."

AROUND AND ABOUT

With Jo Healy

CAYCUSE—AUCTION BLOCKS ARE ABOUT TO BE set up everywhere throughout the world. Auctioneers won't cry the merits of miscellaneous goods, but the name and age of sturdy bits of humanity; and the buyers will pay for their purchases, not in cash, but credits.

It isn't a revival of the slave markets. It's the beginning of the spring season of "Little League," when sports-minded, interested boys from the ages of between eight and twelve are given the opportunity to participate in that topmost favorite of games—baseball.

I'VE NEVER REALIZED BEFORE THE EXTENT OF Little League activities. Formerly when I heard the name I had vague visions of a gang of kids playing baseball—softball—on a vacant lot. I used to play in those games myself, way back when. But this Little League is a tremendous, universal organization governed by definite rules drawn up by an impressive board of directors. Its origin was in 1939 in Williamsport, Pennsylvania—a really little league composed of three teams. Spreading like proverbial wildfire through the world, 1955 found the program expanded to 3,976 leagues in the U.S., Canada, Mexico, and eight foreign countries.

INTEREST HAS SPREAD TO THIS LITTLE CORNER, now that the road makes it easier for us to join in the activities of our sister communities down the length of Cowichan Lake. Looks like we'll have candidates out for the teams of the local Little League, thanks to an invitation from their committee.

I like the stringent, clean-cut rules of Little League, that give every player and every team an even chance to be tops. By controlling the number of top-level 12-year-olds to a minority on each team, the groups are evenly matched. Although regulation baseball rules are adhered to, the exception is in a playing-field reduced to the physical limitations of the players, and limited innings per game.

CANDIDATES FOR LITTLE LEAGUE (AND EVERY boy within the age and area limit is eligible) are called out to commence spring training. They are watched by managers of the various teams as they play the positions of their choice, and by a comprehensive player selection system, players are auctioned, the managers bidding with credits allowed at the start of the season. Since the bidding is kept strictly secret, no boy knows how few or how many credits bought him. For those candidates who didn't make the "first" team, a minor league or farm system gives them training and experience for the following year.

SPORTS PARTICIPATION IS NOT THE SOLE OBJECTIVE of Little League. It has become, in the 17 years since its inauguration, a universal organization pledged to not only provide baseball for boys but to promote the highest attainable standards of team work, fair play and discipline amongst the young people.

Pages could be written on all the advantages pertaining to the Little League program. But the actual formation of these spirited baseball teams by enterprising communities can speak more than a volume of words. So—call out the kids and let's play ball!

Chinese Execute Two Priests, Nun

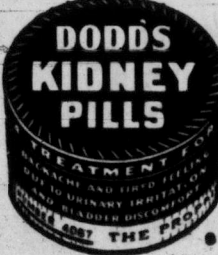

VATICAN CITY (Reuters)—Two Chinese Roman Catholic priests and a religious sister were executed by Chinese Communists at Hanyang, in the Hupeh province of central China, the Fides News Agency of the Vatican's Congregation for the Propagation of the Faith said Tuesday.

The news agency said it was not known why fathers Paul Chang and John Gao and Sister Isabella had been sentenced to death, but there was a major anti-church movement under way in Hupeh province.

Woman Injured As Tornado Hits Hollywood Suburb

HOLLYWOOD, Fla. (AP)—A tornado dipped into West Hollywood Tuesday night, then struck at nearby Dania. Several persons were injured.

Mary Batcho, 78, was in critical condition from injuries received when her trailer was destroyed. Several other persons were cut by flying glass.

Use Benefits Indians Told

Applications for Compensation Too Few, Says Board Spokesman

CAPE MUDGE—Insufficient publicity among Indians has been given the new clause in the Workmen's Compensation Act which covers independent fishermen, Harold Roberts told the annual convention of the Native Brotherhood Tuesday.

M & B PAY MORE TAXES FOR SCHOOLS

PORT ALBERNI—Sum of $98,579 will be paid to the city by MacMillan & Bloedel Ltd. to make up for "additional school taxes it does not have to pay under a fixed agreement of 1945.

According to the company, the sum was computed by the education department on the basis of actual value of property. It represents the difference between the fixed sum and that tax which would be paid if the agreement did not exist.

Mr. Roberts, a representative of the Workmen's Compensation Board, said of the 1,280 applications for coverage under the clause received by the board only 188 were from Indians.

Mr. Roberts said protection under the new clause was not effective until an application was received and accepted.

Dr. R. C. Scott, a former missionary, urged strong support be given the Coqualeetza Fellowship, a non-sectarian, non-political organization of native people whose objective is to establish a native centre in Vancouver.

He asked that more Indians become members of the group.

DANCE FOR FUNDS

Indians of the Ahousat band, now attending the 24th annual convention of the Native Brotherhood of B.C. here, raised money for the trip by staging an evening of war dances in the Canadian Legion Hall at Tofino.

There were 10 dances on the program, conducted by Earl George, master of ceremonies, and accompanied by a tomtom band.

A war canoe dance, with paddles waving, opened the program, and was followed by two youngsters in a ritual handed down through their families.

Five women took part in a dance given to the Ahousats at least 200 years ago by other tribes as a peace treaty following 15 years of war.

DREAM DANCE

A war dance that used to be performed on sealing schooners, and that was given to the Ahousats by the Sitka tribe of Alaska, was re-enacted by two girls in full costume and feathers.

Luke Swan of Ahousat performed a song and dance he said he dreamed after the sinking of his boat 25 miles off shore, and his voyage to safety in a 10-foot canoe.

The Tricon dance by six men and three women originally lasted "a full Slawash moon," but was abbreviated to fit the program.

The Cape Mudge convention, which started Monday, will close tonight. More than 400 B.C. Indians attended the sessions.

Third Power Line to Cost $1.4 Million

The provincial government has authorized the B.C. Power Commission to build a third 56-mile 138,000-volt transmission line from the John Hart Development on Campbell River to its new Dunsuir switching station near Qualicum.

Cost of the project, including alterations and additions to the two stations, is estimated at $1,400,000.

The new line will mean improved efficiency and reliability of the commission's existing double-circuit transmission system. It is necessary in order to handle the increased generating capacity which will come with completion of the commission's $10,000,000 Ladore Falls development and, later, the $23,000,000 Upper Campbell Lake project.

The line will follow the route of the existing two circuits which are on steel towers. The new single circuit will be on wooden H-frame structures.

Work is scheduled to start in May and should be completed by the end of the year.

Basketball Team Feted After B.C. Title Win

LADYSMITH—Congratulations have been showered on coach Harold Rourke and members of Ladysmith High School basketball team for winning the provincial championship in the B.C. Commercial League juvenile section.

The players, all under 18, defeated Kamloops in a two-game series at Kamloops Friday and Saturday to win the title. Ladysmith High School band and loyal fans met the boys on their arrival in Nanaimo after the victory.

Fifteen years ago only 5% of men with cancer of the prostate gland survived. Modern treatment has increased that figure to 30%.

CITY CRAFTSMAN MAKES TROPHY

Native-designed silver bowl made in Victoria will be presented by Col. Clarence Wallace, CBE, former lieutenant-governor, to the 24 Militia Group, Canadian Army, Vancouver, for use as an efficiency trophy. Two thunderbirds were carved on the bowl which weighs 108 ounces and is 14 inches in height. The trophy was made by George Bennett of Maurice Carmichael, silversmiths.

Boat Basin Proposal Forwarded to Ottawa

LADYSMITH—A proposal for the construction of a small-boat basin in Ladysmith harbor, which has been in preparation for more than a year, has now been forwarded to Ottawa, John MacNaughton, chairman of the industrial development committee of the Chamber of Commerce, reported to the chamber Monday.

With the proposal were sent copies of letters from Comox Logging & Railway Company and Canadian Collieries (Dunsuir) Ltd., which stated that those companies would not object to the proposal; petitions signed by 41 full-time commercial fishermen endorsing the proposal, and an unsolicited resolution from the Thetis Island local of the fishermen's union, which also gave endorsement.

Location of the proposed boat basin is water lot 132, the site of an old shingle mill to the south of the Comox Logging & Railway Company booming ground. Completely sheltered at all times of year, the site would require only dredging to create a boat basin.

A portion of the water lot is now being used by the Comox Logging & Railway Company as part of its booming ground, and this portion would be retained by the company. This would leave about 14 acres for development as a boat basin. While considerable dredging

Cobble Hill School Tenders To Be Called

DUNCAN—Tenders for the new $225,000 Cobble Hill junior high school likely will be called in the first week of May, it was announced at the regular meeting of Cowichan District 65 School Board.

Teachers of the district have approved salary increases granted by the board that will cost the district an additional $13,000 for the year.

About 60 per cent of the increase will go to teachers in the lower income brackets and the remainder to those in other wage levels.

The board decided to purchase the Margaret property on Alexander Road, in North Cowichan, as site for an elementary school to serve both the city and district. Trustees George Brownlee, Ross Marshall and Mrs. Isabel Tarlton

POLISH OFF MAROONS

Vernon Earns Allan Cup Slot

VERNON, B.C. (CP)—The home-town Canadians won a hockey game and a nine-day rest here Tuesday night, trouncing Winnipeg Maroons, 7-5, to win the western Allan Cup semifinal four games to none.

Maroons tied one game. The powerful Vernon squad, losers in only three games in 20 playoff starts, thus became the fourth British Columbia club in history to take the Paton Cup, emblem of western Canada senior hockey supremacy.

AWAIT OPPONENT

Canadians now advance against either Chatham Maroons or Saint John Beavers in the final, slated to open here April 19.

Highlights of Tuesday night's game were the four-goal effort of Murray Balagas in a losing cause and a three-goal outburst in 43 seconds which erased a Winnipeg lead in the second period.

Frank King, Art Hart and defenceman Don McLeod all scored twice for Vernon, with Brian Roche picking up the single. Bill Juzda netted Maroons' other goal.

A small playoff crowd of about 2,000 was on hand to see Maroons strike early in their bid to stay in the best-of-seven playoff, running up a 3-1 lead in the first period.

Canadians outscored Maroons 4-1 in the second period to take a 3-4 lead.

FIRST PERIOD
1. Winnipeg, Balagas (Castellano) 2:27.
2. Vernon, Roche (Blair, Asari) 8:42.

Patterson's Hard Right Drops Indian

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (BUP)—Top-ranked light-heavyweight Floyd Patterson and manager Gus D'Amato left for New York today, jubilant after Patterson's knockout over Chief Alvin Williams, and D'Amato announced he will attempt later this week to patch up his "differences" with the International Boxing Club.

The New York fighter, just as fast a puncher as usual despite several additional pounds, sank a terrific right under Williams' heart at 1:58 of the third round. Williams dropped like a sack of sand and never stirred.

Later, the tough Caddo Indian from Kansas City said he didn't know what punch felled him. "All of a sudden, the light went out," he said. "I don't know what kind of a punch hit me."

It was the first time Williams had been counted out. The knockout boosted Patterson's KO string to 21 in 29 bouts. A combination boxer-puncher, the big Negro was the 1952 Olympic champion.

Patterson weighed 183 to Williams' 176.

BOXLA OR WATER POLO? ROCKS ASK

Victoria Shamrocks, getting ready for a lacrosse season, are becoming unwilling water polo players.

The Shamrocks moved into Memorial Arena Tuesday night for their first workout after the removal of the ice surface.

Faulty pipes under the cement floor have resulted in brine seeping through the floor and leaving puddles all over the floor.

Shamrock players had to soak up some of the water with rags Tuesday night before they could start their damp, slippery workout.

Fight Card Scheduled at Mount View

Victoria's Brian O'Hare will tune up for the Tournament of Champions next week by meeting an up-island opponent Friday night at Mt. View High School gym on an amateur boxing card.

Also featured will be AB Weisberger, RCN, entered in the Tournament of Champions, who will meet Bill Burton of Victoria.

There will be other bouts, starting at 8.

Suds, Stars Split; Mounties Flunked

By The Associated Press

The Seattle Rainiers and Hollywood Stars are using the old script in the new Pacific Coast League Baseball season.

Last season the Rainiers and the Stars staged a neck-and-neck race down to the wire before Seattle pulled out in the championship. They were matched in the 1956 season-opener Tuesday and the story was familiar: Seattle won the afternoon game, 5-4, and Hollywood the night game, 7-6.

The day-night twin bill made up one-third of the opening day schedule which drew a total of 29,400 fans throughout the league.

Half of these—14,401—saw San Francisco's revived Seals, under Boston Red Sox ownership. The Seals drew only 10 times that many fans in some 80 home games all last season.

The new, young Seals and the Portland Beavers got off on top, the Seals beating the Vancouver Mounties, 6-3, and the Beavers slipping by Sacramento, 3-2.

Los Angeles breezed through San Diego, 9-2, in their opener but San Diego got even in a 3-1 night game.

The San Francisco-Vancouver meeting was a match of old rivals and new faces. The Seals are operating with an almost totally new team; the Mounties are former Oakland A's.

MOUNTIES OUTHIT

The steady-hitting Seals held a 5-1 lead going into the fifth. Vancouver then scored two more runs off starting pitcher Jerry Casale, who had bruised his hand knocking down a ball in the fourth. Bob Smith took over and cut off the Mounties without a hit for the rest of the game. San Francisco got 13 hits; Vancouver only six.

At Sacramento, veteran Solon pitcher Earl Harris watched a 2-0 lead blow up in the eighth when Portland's Jack Littrell and Dick Young homered. Some 6,500 fans watched.

Seattle took its afternoon opener at Hollywood before only 1,667 spectators who huddled in chilly, windy weather.

With 1,807 attending at night, Paul Pettit and Joe Duham each got three-run homers, Duham in the first and Pettit in the fifth to break a 4-4 tie. Seattle's Joe Taylor homered in the second inning and Art Schult got one in the eighth.

RICHMOND, Calif.—Archie Moore, 196, San Diego, stopped Willie Bean, 211, Los Angeles (1).

Beat Wings To Capture Stanley Cup

Montreal 3, Detroit 1

MONTREAL (CP)—Montreal Canadiens' fearsome weapon, the explosive power play, broke loose in all its fury over a stretch of less than one minute Tuesday night and the prized Stanley Cup was whisked from the hands of underdog but courageous Detroit Red Wings.

Two big goals in the second period and another early in the third before the fighting Wings could break into the scoring gave Canadiens a 3-1 victory and the best-of-seven cup final four games to one.

It was fitting that all the scoring in the thrilling win of the season for the National Hockey League champions was looked after by Canadiens' big three—Jean Beliveau, Maurice Rocket Richard and Bernie Boom Boom Geoffrion.

BOUCHARD'S SWAN-SONG

Alex Delvecchio, the Red Wings' playoff opportunist, scored the single Detroit goal.

It was a spectacular game unfolded before 14,152 screaming Montreal fans—a game of driving, wide-open play and a brilliant performance by goalie Jacques Plante of Canadiens who was forced into an almost superhuman effort in shading Glenn Hall, Detroit's rookie netminder.

As the second hand of the Montreal Forum clock swung around for the final minute of the third period, the roars of the crowd became a crescendo that reached its peak when captain Butch Bouchard came on the ice with only three seconds left.

It was the veteran's first appearance in play for the entire playoff series and for the last half of the NHL season. Everyone knew it was the swan-song appearance of the gallant Bouchard after 15 seasons of campaigning and a gesture that signaled his retirement.

TIES GOAL MARK

The goal by Beliveau, scoring champion of the NHL season with 47 goals and 41 assists, was his 12th in the playoffs and tied a playoff record.

The mark was set in the 1944 playoffs by Rocket Richard in nine games against Toronto Maple Leafs and Chicago Black Hawks. Beliveau's 12 were amassed in 10 games—five against New York Rangers in the semifinal and seven against Detroit.

Canadiens' victory in the final was their seventh since the NHL was formed in 1917. They also won in 1916. Wings have won the cup seven times since, Detroit came into the league in the 1926-27 season.

FIRST PERIOD
Penalties: Hillman 2:48, Provost 6:42, H. Richard 9:35, Howe 10:47, Harvey 10:47.

NEW STARTING TIMES IN ISLAND GOLF MEET

Starting times have been advanced for Sunday's quarter-final matches in the Times Vancouver Island match play Open golf championships at Victoria Golf Club.

Under the new schedule, opening match between George Andrews and Ted Colgate will start at 9.30.

Other times and pairings follow:
Championship—9.36, Dr. George Bigelow vs. Vince Clarkson; 9.42, Bob Fleming vs. Bill McColl; 9.48, Laurie Kerr vs. Laurie Carroll.

Handicap—9.54, M. Carlow vs. W. Flack; 10.00, R. Brousseau vs. L. Greenwood; 10.06, G. Hay vs. G. Buckingham; 10.12, V. Lea vs. H. McDonald.

TWO COUGARS HONORED

Marcel, Colin WHL All-Stars

Victoria Cougars have placed two men on the Western Hockey League all-star team for the second straight year.

They are goalkeeper Marcel Pelletier and leftwinger Colin Kilburn.

Last year defenceman Pete Durham and leftwinger Andy Heberton were selected to the first team.

Calgary Stampede also placed two men on this year's dream club. They are defencemen Fred Hucul and Art Michaluk.

Phil Maloney of Vancouver took the centre berth and Jackie McLeod of Saskatoon the right-wing position.

Kilburn was only two votes shy of being a unanimous selection. He received 25 of 27 first-team votes and two second-place votes for 131 out of a possible 135 points. New Westminster's Gordon Fashaway got the other first-team votes for the left-wing berth.

Hucul was a unanimous choice, the Calgary defender this year setting a new goal mark for defencemen of 21, more than the record established last year by Durham.

Pelletier, who set a new league mark for shutouts with eight, and was second to Vancouver's Ray Mikulan in the goal-keeping averages, polled 86 points and had 12 first-place votes.

Maloney, league scoring champion, was a shoo-in for the centre berth with 113 points, while Michaluk polled 62½ points and McLeod 84.

SWEEP FOR WEST

Mikulan was named to the second team and Charlie Hodge of Seattle to the third team, giving the western division a clean sweep of goading honors.

Most surprising aspect of the voting was that Winnipeg Warriors, who won the prairie sectional championship, failed to place a player on either the first or second team.

The members of the first all-star team will each receive $100, and members of the second team $50.

Sportswriters and radio-casters in each league city participated in the poll with each city having three votes. A first team vote was worth five points, second team, three points, and third team, one point. As Calgary and Edmonton only submitted two votes, values of those votes were increased to 7½, 4½ and 1½ points respectively to bring the total points from those cities equal to that of other cities.

All-star teams follow with total voting points in parentheses, and first, second and third-team votes in that order. Maximum points are 135, maximum votes 27.

STAMPEDER CANDIDATE

CALGARY, Alta. (BUP)—Herman A. "Buck" Watson, a star tackle with Vanderbilt University for four years, will try out with Calgary Stampede of the Western Conference, it was announced yesterday by Stamp manager Bob Masterton.

Tuesday if McGregor were allowed to return to amateur ranks, "a champion like Lew Hoag could accept a $50,000 contract from Jack Kramer for one tour and immediately apply for reinstatement."

Harry Hopman, writing in the Melbourne Herald, said Tuesday if McGregor were allowed to return to amateur ranks, "a champion like Lew Hoag could accept a $50,000 contract from Jack Kramer for one tour and immediately apply for reinstatement."

Across the ice in the Detroit dressing room, the Red Wings were practically all dressed and headed for the train by the time the Canadiens got off the ice.

Coach Jimmy Skinner, who duplicated Blake's double victory a year ago, said "Sure they're a good club."

"I think Beliveau carried them through the whole series." And then after a pause, added, "Whatta hockey player."

Jolly Jack Adams, the Detroit general manager who wasn't his usual jolly self, remarked, "They're no super team."

"I don't think they are as good as the Detroit team that won eight straight playoff games in the 1952 series."

Warriors Drop Opener In Vancouver

Vancouver 3, Winnipeg 1

(Vancouver leads best-of-seven series, 1-0.)

VANCOUVER (CP)—Winnipeg Warriors, a rough and tough hockey club, will have to win in Vancouver or forget about the Western Hockey League title until next year.

The Warriors mixed it up with Vancouver Canucks in 60 minutes of blazing playoff action here Tuesday night but went down 3-1 in the first game of the best-of-seven WHL final.

Alf Pike, coach of Winnipeg's first WHL entry, said:

"We have to win in Vancouver and we may do it Friday night."

Warriors got only three home games. If Warriors win here Friday, a third game will go here Saturday.

"We didn't have our legs in the first two periods," Pike said, "but we came back in the third. The small rink and the slow ice hurt us."

EASTEST THIS YEAR

About 5,300 watched as the Canucks went ahead 2-0 and 3-0 and then checked Warriors to a single goal in the third.

WHAT'S THE SCORE? BY Denny Boyd

An Open Letter to Willie Hamilton:
Scots who hae, Willie, and I hope you haven't made too many plans for this summer.

Also, Willie, I hope you don't think that all us Canadians are crazy, no matter what impressions the Coast Soccer League may give you.

Actually, Willie, some of us are in our right minds, fully able to make concrete decisions and abide by them, no matter how wrong we may think them to be on second thought.

When you came to Victoria, Willie, to coach our senior soccer team you probably thought the soccer fields of Scotland, where you served your apprenticeship, were a long way away.

But, I imagine, even in this short time, you have been able to conclude for yourself that the gulf between the soccer chappies in Victoria and the soccer chappies in Vancouver makes the Atlantic Ocean look like a wee puddle.

This is nothing new, Willie. Just ask George Eade. He can tell you a lot of things about the Coast Soccer League. Things that might make you wonder about us Canadians, to whom you came with such high hopes.

For more years than we care to remember, Victoria has been subsidizing the Coast Soccer League. Subsidizing is the only word for it.

Everytime a Vancouver team came to Victoria (and they always outnumbered us at least four or five to one), Victoria had to dip into the till to make sure the mainland team didn't lose a nickel by honoring us with their presence.

The Vancouver teams had only to walk down the street in Vancouver to collect a visiting team's split. It was virtually impossible for Victoria to make a split farthing in a home game and they had to pay their travelling expenses for their road games out of the money they weren't making at home.

This, Willie, is what some Canadians call good, wholesome amateur sport.

Ask George Eade about the frustrating years he spent trying to promote soccer here against the pressure tactics of the mainland teams. Those years were papered with the greenbacks George doled out. In the hopes that, some day, the Victoria team would get an honest break.

Ask George about the Coast League year that he calls "his biggest year."

George only lost $1,000 that year, hardly enough to carry the mainland teams through the season.

But George called that a good year because he escaped at the loss of only 1,000 hogans.

Well, anyway, Willie, according to the Coast League officials, this is just so much financial water under the fiscal bridge.

They say there's a new deal brewing and they want you back in the Coast Soccer League.

This is not to be confused with the new deal they had a couple of weeks ago when they didn't want you in the league.

They've changed their minds, Willie, something they can do faster than Ced Robb can change feet on the full dribble. But you'll probably get used to it. They change their minds quite often.

Actually, Willie, you don't have to worry too much about the way the league runs its business.

There are a couple of guys on your team executive named Eade and Lackie and they are fighters, Willie. They love soccer and they'll fight for the game and their principles.

Fighting for their principles got them into hot water recently, as you remember, but they'll keep fighting till the water cools down.

You have some fine soccer players to work with, Willie, and they have become even finer players by their short association with you.

The Vancouver press again will call the Victoria team "an anchor around the league's neck," but a lot of people hereabouts would like to see you drop that anchor on some Vancouver toes . . . hard!

TIME OUT!

"Sometimes I get the feeling they almost realize the season is closed on them!"

Little League Calls Players

By BILL RAYNER

Victoria's Little League baseball program is on the threshold of its fourth year, with more youngsters than ever before to have the opportunity to play.

Started in 1953 by the youth committee of the Junior Chamber of Commerce as one of its special projects in Greater Victoria, the original four-team circuit has blossomed into three separate leagues, plus farm teams.

Victoria's organization adheres to the strict Little League constitution, as laid down by Carl Stotz, which gives every boy an equal right to play, regardless of race, color or creed.

This season, as in the past, team managers will "purchase" players with credits following the spring training sessions, when every player comes under the scrutiny of managers and coaches.

The system is designed to give every player an equal chance to play his ability. To be eligible to play Little League baseball this year, a boy must be between the ages of nine and 12, and must be 12 before Aug. 1, 1956. All players, not regular members of teams last year must be registered between April 13-15. Birth certificates must be brought to the registration.

This year the National League, with Gyros, North Kiwanis, Rotary and Oddfellows sponsoring teams, and American League, comprised of Lions, Kinsmen, Elks and Kiwanis, will play at Little League Park, Hillside, The National League is in its fourth year of operation, with the American League entering its third.

A brand new league this year will be the Esquimalt-Victoria West Little League, which will play at Bullen Park, Esquimalt, and is open to eligible youngsters living in the Esquimalt-Vic West area.

National and American League boundaries will be the same as last year.

Prospective players for the National and American Leagues, including players in National and American farm teams, must register again, will begin registering for this season Saturday morning between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. at Little League Park.

Further sessions will be on Sunday between 1 and 4 p.m. and Monday, between 6 and 8 p.m.

Esquimalt-Vic West Little League will hold registration to-night and Friday nights between 6 and 7 o'clock, and Saturday between 10 a.m. and 12 noon at Bullen Park.

Spring training sessions will follow registration of players.

Light-heavyweight champion Archie Moore slapped a terrified Willie Bean to the canvas six times last night before winning a TKO in 24 of the fifth round of a scheduled 10-round non-title bout.

Moore, a paunchy 196, hardly worked up a sweat in disposing of his fifth pushover opponent since Rocky Marciano knocked him out last September. Bean, of Los Angeles, weighed 211.

The aging champion meets George Parmenter in Seattle, Wash., next week in another tuneup for his title match with Yolande Pompey in London, June 5.

A crowd that paid a gross of $5,076 boomed lustily as referee Jack Downey stopped the fight after Bean had gone down for the third time in the fifth round.

The former California heavyweight champion previously went to the canvas three times in the second round. A routine right to the face was the blow that ended things for Bean.

Bean threw occasional punches but they were easily parried by the champion.

Bean's first knockdown was his own idea. Moore landed a left hook to the head and Bean suddenly ran to the ropes, dropped one knee to the canvas.

Moore, whose 358 stands as the world record, said he would run in Los Angeles May 5 and in the west coast relays in San Francisco on May 12.

He said his American races would be his final competitive appearances before a winter in Australia layoff which will precede his intensive Olympic preparations.

"I am extremely gratified at the opportunity to appear before the American public under such excellent conditions," he said.

"I am confident this will provide me with an opportunity to register a good time. I feel my visit will further stimulate interest in the Melbourne Olympics this year."

Landy added that he had received "dozens" of invitations to race in the United States, and added that after his 358.6 effort last week here, he felt his form warrants an appearance in the U.S.

HUMMINGBIRD HIGHLIGHTS

'Rufous' Follows Birds to Victoria

By A. M. THOMAS

When Mrs. J. O. Cameron, 1083 Moss Street, phoned Tuesday night to report the return of hummingbirds to these parts—there was one right in her yard at 6 o'clock, she said—we realized how little we actually know about these vivid little harbingers of summer: spring, anyway.

Not 10 minutes after Mrs. Graham phoned, there was another call from C. W. Simpson, 300 View Royal Avenue, to say there were hummingbirds in his garden, too.

So we consulted our favorite hummingbird expert, who came up with the following facts which we pass on to those who are as ignorant of hummingbirds as we are.

First, there are lots of them—325, all different, grouped in 123 genera, of which 71 have only one and 21 have two species each.

Most common in B.C. are the rufous, the black-chinned and the calloped. Only "Rufous" follows the rest of the birds to Victoria. The other species stay on the mainland.

And how they get around. Hummingbirds of one kind or another, range from Alaska to Tierra del Fuego, which is away-to-here-and-gone down on the southernmost tip of South America.

HIGH, LOW

They can be found in lowlands below sea level and up to the snowline, 16,000 feet, in Ecuador.

You might think our B.C. hummingbirds are small, but not if you'd seen the fairy, or Princess Helen's species of Cuba. It's the smallest bird in the world with a body two inches long, a nest capacity of three-quarters of an inch across, and it lays eggs three-tenths of an inch long.

There is another small species in Jamaica that weighs less than two grams which means—and we consulted a mathematician about this—that it would take more than 217 of them to weigh a pound.

Biggest hummingbird we know of is the Patagonian gigas who swoops around the Andes. He measures eight and one-half inches long but we're a little vague about the size of the eggs.

STRONG TONGUES

They all have one thing in common, unusually developed tongues they use in probing flowers for insects as well as nectar. Their voices are weak, the song being an unmusical, chirping sound.

If you want to know hummingbirds more intimately than you do, probably now, take a small glass tube, paint the opened tip of it bright red, partially fill it with a clear syrup and then lie on your back on a lawn with the tube in your mouth.

If you lie still enough, a hummingbird, no genius, will mistake the red tip of the tube for a flower and hover over it an inch from your face, sipping the syrup.

Wait until they've finished nesting before you try that little trick, though. They have more pugnacity than an eagle and will attack you without hesitation if you go too close to a nest in which they are raising youngsters.

That's all we know about hummingbirds.

17 Cattle Killed In Dairy Barn Fire

(From the Canadian Press)

ROSEDALE — Sixteen dairy cows and a bull were burned to death Tuesday night in a fire which destroyed a barn owned by Stinson Mercer of Rosedale, a Fraser Valley farm community.

Mr. Mercer, who lost all his milk-producing cattle, a large quantity of hay, a baler and milking equipment, said he was awakened by the cries of the burning animals. Flames prevented him from getting into the barn to rescue the cows.

The barn, situated on Old Yale road, was on one of the oldest farms in the district. It was built by Mr. Mercer's grandfather.

10-YEAR PRISON TERM

GRAND FORKS — Alexander Nelson Marks, 26, Rock Creek, B.C., laborer, was sentenced to 10 years here Tuesday by Magistrate E. W. Eubry. Marks pleaded guilty to an amended charge of intent to wound.

He was originally charged with assault in the March 17 attack on Mrs. J. Sheehan, Rock Creek widow and mother of four children whose husband was killed in a highway accident several years ago.

WINS FELLOWSHIP

PRINCE RUPERT — David Kristmanson, 26, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Kristmanson, has been awarded an Athol fellowship for two years study in England. He has been working as a chemical engineer at the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company plant in Trail.

A request that the minister of justice appoint two additional justices to the B.C. supreme court also was made by lawyers meeting.

Seldom Regular

Perhaps you are not getting all the benefit of your constipation. Good-tasting Kellogg's All-Bran has helped millions correct a common cause of constipation: lack of good food bulk in the diet. Laxatives that contain no bulk cannot overcome this condition. All-Bran, made of whole wheat grain, provides all the bulk (gentle roughage) you need daily for regularity. Kellogg's—the original, ready-to-eat bran cereal. Enjoy comfortable, natural regularity within 10 days or return the empty carton and get twice what you paid.

FIVE JUDGES ON IMPORTANT CASE

B.C. Remarriage Waiting Period Contested in Appeal Court Here

A legal sword hanging over a good many B.C. marriages is being contested in a divorce case before the B.C. Court of Appeal here.

Under existing law in this province, parties in a divorce case must wait 60 days after granting of the decree before remarrying. In the present case, the attorney-general's department is defending the law, which is under attack by the respondent in the divorce.

History of the case starts in 1949, when Mr. and Mrs. Andrew W. Densmore were married in Edmonton, Alta., just 53 days after Mrs. Densmore was granted a divorce in B.C. from her first husband.

Now she wants a divorce from Densmore on the grounds that her marriage to him, actually was not in effect because of their failure to observe the 60-day waiting period, put into effect in B.C. in 1938 to allow appeal of a divorce before remarrying.

NO RIGHT

When the divorce application was heard in Vancouver before Mr. Justice H. S. Wood, it was contested by J. M. Boucher, counsel for Densmore, that B.C. had no right to set a 60-day waiting period, since only the federal parliament may legislate on matters of marriage and divorce.

Mr. Justice Wood decided in favor of Densmore, saying no B.C. legislation can bar a person from marrying outside the province. His decision, in effect, meant the end of the 60-day waiting period, and will affect a number of divorce actions based on the same grounds as those in the Densmore case—that the marriage was not valid in the first place.

On appeal of the decision in Vancouver before Justices C. H. O'Halloran, H. W. Davey and J. M. Coady, the attorney-general's department intervened to uphold the legislation concerning the 60-day waiting period. Counsel for the department said the establishment of the waiting period was procedural and within the authority of the province.

Mr. Justice O'Halloran adjourned the case in Vancouver in order to hear it again in Victoria with five judges in attendance. Justices Sidney Smith and F. H. Sheppard have joined the first three for the present hearing, which opened Tuesday in the court house here.

J. J. Sutherland, Vancouver, argued at length Tuesday in support of the legislation, which is based on statutes of 1857 and 1858.

ANTHEM FLOUTED, MAN FINED

LONDON (Reuters) — Padraig MacGillhinnnein, an advocate of home rule for Scotland, has been fined £10 for insulting the National Anthem at a ceremony Sunday. MacGillhinnnein, 33, Gaelic-speaking official of the Scottish National party, was arrested after halting the unveiling of a memorial to Scottish patriot Sir William Wallace by shouting: "Do not sing this anthem of slavery."

Heliports Planned for Hospitals

Emergency Flights Will Be Speeded

VANCOUVER (CP) — RCAF and transport department officials were scheduled to meet today with Vancouver traffic police to discuss the possibility of flying out-of-town accident victims directly to two city hospitals by helicopter.

Sqdn. Ldr. George Sheahan, officer commanding No. 121 communications and rescue squadron at Sea Island here, said Monday he hopes the proposal can be tried out within the next 10 days, using a twin-rotor Piasecki helicopter.

Today's meeting was to discuss suitable landing areas near Vancouver general and Shaughnessy hospitals. The plan would eliminate delays in cases where injured persons are brought to international airport for transport to hospital by ambulance.

Song Writer Jack Little Found Dead

HOLLYWOOD, Fla. (AP) — Little Jack Little, pianist, composer and dance-band personality of the 1930s, was found dead in bed—a possible victim of poison, investigators said.

Medical examiner Jack Mickey said Little, 56, had been suffering from several ailments and was known to have been depressed. He planned further toxicological work before making a final report.

Little, a native of England, reached national radio fame in the '30s with his intimate, near-whispering song and piano technique.

He wrote "A Shanty in Old Shanty Town", "Jealous" and his own theme song "Little By Little."

Political TV Series Will Start Monday

OTTAWA (CP) — Free-time political television broadcasts will be launched over the CBC's English-language network next Monday by Finance Minister Harris.

The next Monday, April 30, Progressive Conservative leader Drew will appear on the English-language network.

A CBC spokesman said that arrangements have not yet been completed for succeeding programs.

Frustrated Suicide

OSHIMA, Japan (AP) — Two young lovers embraced and leaped into the mouth of Mount Mihara, famous suicide volcano of pre-war days, Monday. Instead of dying in each other's arms, they wound up in hospital, severely burned and bruised but alive. They jumped into the mouth of the volcano but landed about 30 feet below, on the edge of the molten lava.

Regular, thorough medical check-ups by your doctor may help to find cancer at a time when it will respond to treatment.

Directors Win High Praise At Drama Festival Opening

By AUDREY S.T.D. JOHNSON

Lively imagination and an advanced knowledge of theatre craftsmanship on the part of directors were conspicuous factors in the opening program of the Southern Vancouver Island Drama Festival.

Two competing plays and a complimentary entry were seen Tuesday night at Oak Bay Junior High School by a fair-sized audience. Alderman W. F. Pinfold declared the festival open and Mrs. Phoebe Smith of Vancouver was adjudicator. Intermission music was supplied by Henry Stubbings, using special hi-fi equipment.

Due to withdrawal of the second Theatre Guild entry, "Vigil" a mood play by Emyln Williams, successfully performed in the schools drama festival, was presented by North Saanich High School under direction of Gil Burch.

Music and setting contributed strongly to the effect of this piece and it was acted with a high degree of skill by Bob Bader, Wally Du Temple and Stan Belobaba.

WELL STAGED

This play which presented a definite challenge, was beautifully staged. Mrs. Smith commented during a careful and detailed analysis of the evening's presentations.

The stage had been used well and the atmosphere of medieval Italy was thoroughly realized, she declared. Properties had been excellently chosen and costumes were "beautiful."

Mrs. Smith found herself at variance with some of the interpretation, particularly in regard to insincerity of the lover (Richard). However, this actor, Ken Bostock, had shown understanding of the style of the piece, had a fine voice and an excellent sense of movement, and his presentation of long and difficult speeches was particularly fine, she considered.

GRACEFUL

Carol MacCormac had given a pleasing study of the young, faithful wife. She had finesse and her movements were graceful, the adjudicator commented. Roy Blodgett as the over-confident husband had given a carefully thought out characterization, but needed more imperiousness, she felt.

'Clean Air' Law Enacted In Britain

LONDON (Reuters) — The House of Commons Tuesday night passed a bill to reduce the pollution of air in London and other large British cities. It is the result of the outcry which followed the death in December of 1952 of 4,000 people suffering from respiratory ailments during a four-day "smog"—a poisonous mixture of smoke and fog. The bill bans the emission of dark industrial smoke, subject to certain exceptions.

HE COULD BEAR IT NO LONGER

TRENTON, Italy (AP)—Woodchopper Lionello Troglio looked up from his work in a nearby forest and saw a bear watching him.

Troglio thought it best to continue chopping. Maybe the bear would leave.

He chopped for five hours. The bear watched.

Then Troglio lost his nerve. He dropped his axe and ran for safety.

Victoria Day Events Partially Scheduled

Delay in scheduling of various attractions slated for the three-day Victoria Day celebrations slowed planning at Greater Victoria Celebrations Association meeting Monday night.

While not able to complete the program of events, members set May 21 at 6.30 p.m. for traditional May Queen's banquet. Place is not decided.

The offer of Northwestern International Baseball League to stage afternoon and evening games here the same day at Royal Athletic Park was accepted.

A Pacific Northwest square dance jamboree will be held the same evening. May queen crowning takes place May 19, there will be a pageant and band concert May 20, and on May 21 the parade, motorcycle rodeo and speedboat regatta and dance.

CNR Lists Numbers On Missing Money

If you find yourself in possession of any new bills of the serial numbers listed below, try to remember where you got them and phone the police. They are the loot of a theft.

Monday, of $44,300 from a CNR delivery truck in downtown Edmonton. Here are the numbers and denominations of the currency, all of which are new:

Five-dollar bills, numbered BC 756001 to BC 762000; five-dollar bills numbered BC 765001 to BC 765800 and BC 766001 to BC 768000; hundred-dollar bills numbered AJ 187068 to 187070. All numbers are inclusive.

British United Press reported Tuesday that no arrests have yet been made in connection with the theft which was the first of its kind ever to occur in the city.

The money was in a package in a closed panel truck on route from the CNR station to a city bank branch when it mysteriously vanished. It was consigned to the bank and consisted of 8,800 $5-bills and 300 $1 bills. There were three persons in the front of the express truck at the time of the theft, the driver, a guard and a messenger.

Needed Blood Refused For Son of Witness

ST. THOMAS, Ont. (CP).—Accidentally shot, Tuesday night, a seven-year-old boy was in serious condition in hospital here today. His father has refused to allow a blood transfusion to be given to the child.

The parent, Alvin Leatherdale, is a member of Jehovah's Witnesses, a religious sect which believes transfusions are contrary to teachings of the Bible. The family lives on a farm at nearby Fingal.

With a bullet lodged near the spine, Paul Leatherdale underwent surgery Tuesday night but it was not disclosed whether the bullet was removed.

A hospital spokesman said that when the father refused to allow a transfusion, he was asked what would happen "if the worst came to the worst."

"That's too bad, that's all," Mr. Leatherdale was quoted as replying.

Police said Paul was shot by a 25-calibre pistol in the hands of an older brother, Ray, 9, while the two were playing in a spare room in their home.

ATTACKED—Victor Riesel, an anti-racketeering labor columnist, was splashed in the face by acid thrown by an unidentified man in New York. Doctors report that Riesel is in danger of losing his sight.

BETWEEN TIMES By MONTE ROBERTS

Friend of mine who is frequently late to work blames his tardiness on childhood training.

Says as a child he was brought up to be polite and courteous at all times. The result is, he complains, that every time he reaches the roundabout—or fountain circle, as it is laughingly called—it takes him forever to get through.

Only the most callous, discourteous, selfish driver can get around the roundabout with speed, my friend claims.

Unless he can develop a real hatred of mankind, my friend says, and thus become an average driver—namely, a road hog—he'll continue to be late for work.

I have been thinking this over, and don't believe my friend need despair.

If he is too polite to bluff his way 'round the roundabout, he might try one of these methods:

Decorate his car with ribbons, streamers. Tie tin cans and old shoes on the rear end. Write on car, in whitewash—"Just Married."

Start blowing horn eight blocks from intersection.

As all the world loves a lover, even most discourteous road hogs will grant right-of-way.

If the above method seems a trifle flamboyant, my friend might try this:

Organize a team of six or eight neighbors to assist in project. Have them all purchase dark colored automobiles, keep them highly polished at all times.

Leave for work at same time, and proceed in procession, with headlights on.

If the above method seems a trifle complicated, or even impossible due to lack of neighbors, here is another thought.

Purchase four good sized red flags.

Affix one to each fender, front and rear.

Procure four large signs, and fix them to front, rear and both sides of car.

The signs, of course, read: DANGER—EXPLOSIVES—KEEP CLEAR.

If desired, a small boy may be employed to walk in front of the car, carrying another red flag, but this refinement is not actually necessary.

If none of the above methods appeal to my friend, all is not lost.

THEY'RE 'FISHFIGHTING' NOW

Saanich Asks B.C. Help On Crossroad

The provincial government will be asked to assist Saanich in the construction of a four-lane east-and-west road through the municipality to connect with the Trans-Canada Highway.

Reeve Arthur Ash said today he is meeting Highway Minister P. A. Gagliardi to request financial assistance for the crossroad considered essential for the future development of Saanich peninsula.

Municipal engineer H. D. Dawson will accompany the reeve.

TWO PLANS

The reeve made two suggestions for financing the proposed road.

The road could be treated as part of the Trans-Canada Highway with senior governments participating in financing.

An alternative, the reeve said, would be to divert part of the capital improvement grant for construction of the through-road.

Extension of McKellie Avenue in an easterly direction to Marine Drive and in a westerly direction to the Trans-Canada highway was proposed last year by Brahm Wiesman, capital regional planner.

Mr. Wiesman said the road would permit a large section of the population residing in the east and north section of the municipality to gain easy access to the Trans-Canada highway.

Under the present road system, thousands of motorists must drive south to the city proper in order to gain access to the island's main thoroughfare.

Saanich council plans to rezone a section of Cloverdale Avenue between Maple and Oak Streets for warehouse purposes, it was learned today.

Two new Hudson's Bay Co. warehouses are already established in the area and a third warehouse is expected to be constructed by the Victoria Wood and Coal Co. Ltd., on the northeast corner of Cloverdale and Oak.

The zoning by-law would permit other firms to establish warehouses on the remaining vacant land in the block.

Meeting Set On Insurance For Servicemen

Health Minister Eric Martin and representatives of the armed forces will meet Thursday to discuss the government's plan to extend BCHS coverage to servicemen's dependents during their first year in British Columbia.

Those attending the conference will be Commander C. R. Parker, of the Navy, Colonel J. C. Cave, of the Army, and Squadron Leader Dean Freeman, of the RCAF.

The conference will discuss details of the plan, and steps to be taken to bring it into force.

Mr. Martin said the government's proposal calls for payment by the individual servicemen of a nominal contribution for first-year BCHS coverage for his family.

Full coverage will be provided the dependents when payment of $10, plus $2.50 for each child, is made.

After the first year of residence, servicemen's dependents are automatically covered.

Ten Years in 'Mothballs' Minesweeper Joins Fleet

After 10 years in the "mothball" fleet, a veteran RCN ship rejoined the navy today, as a training ship for reserves in the Pacific Command.

HMCS Oshawa was recommissioned at 11 a.m. today, with traditional ceremony under the official eye of Rear-Admiral Hugh Pullen, flag officer, Pacific coast. She will become senior ship in the 12th Canadian Escort Squadron, and, with Brockville, Digby, and Cordova, will be employed this summer training reserve personnel afloat.

BENJAMIN FELDMAN

... It's an awful lot.

He Knocked Opportunity Answered

By AB KENT

Benjamin Feldman can do more with a drop of ink in one day than any other man can do in a lifetime.

So he claims—and most people would take him at his word considering he sold the greatest total of ordinary life insurance policies in the history of the sprawling New York Life Insurance Co. during 1955.

His $8,000,000 last year for 158 individual sales beats anything in the 111-year-old history of the firm.

His birthday Thursday will be marked by about 150 New York Life salesmen at the Empress hotel taking part in a 3½-day educational conference of the western states and Canadian "Top Club," whose members are the best salesmen in their area.

Quiet, modest, soft-spoken Mr. Feldman is president of the club by virtue of his fantastic record.

He lives in East Liverpool, Ohio, near Youngstown, and drives a Buick, like many average Americans.

But his salary runs into six figures, and of the total, "Uncle Sam gets more than I do."

"He started out by knocking on doors," company second vice-president Andrew H. Thomson, New York, remarked.

Mr. Feldman would not say just how much money he makes, except to remark, "It's an awful lot." His own life is insured for $750,000.

Last month he indicated he is on his way to another record. Mr. Feldman sold a $3,000,000 policy to an immigrant who had nothing when he started in business 10 years ago, and this year sold out for $10,000,000.

Underwriters Hear Williston

Nearly 100 city and Island life insurance underwriters started a day-long sales congress at Empress Hotel this morning after Education Minister Ray Williston gave official opening remarks.

The conference stressed that although Canadians today own more life insurance per capita than any other nationality, the amount needed to adequately cover the average citizen with retirement funds or free dependents from worry in case of death is still unattained.

City Welfare Budget Decreased $33,000

A welfare department budget of $601,174, decreased $33,000 from 1955 estimates, will be presented to city council this month.

Council welfare committee met this morning for preliminary consideration of the budget.

Actual gross expenditure in 1955 was $588,340. Provincial grants and other income by the department reduced the city's net expenditures last year to $180,412 and the department ended the year with a surplus of over $5,000.

The committee increased the 1956 estimates today by about $2,300 but council sitting as a committee of the whole is expected to attempt reduction later this month.

The $2,300 increase was result of minor additions proposed for the wage structure and necessary equipment purchases.

WAGE ISSUE

Reference was made in the meeting to wage increases requested by four social workers who are paid by the city. Four others, who work in the same office are paid by the province.

Murder Hearing Set

Preliminary hearing of a murder charge against Czeslaw (Chesty) Pupkowski, 42, was set today for Tuesday in city police court.

Pupkowski is charged with murdering his wife, Cecelia, 38, on the afternoon of March 24. Her battered body was found in a blood-spattered room at 128 Clarence, where the family had been living for about a year and a half.

A coroner's jury inquiring into the death of Mrs. Pupkowski returned a verdict of "death at the hands of a person or persons unknown."

Pupkowski has been held under 24-hour guard at city jail since he was charged, less than seven hours after his wife's body was found.

Joseph McKenna, QC, is his counsel.

Easter Seals Nearing Quota

Victoria and Esquimalt Lions Club Easter Seal Drive reached the 66 per cent mark today with $10,528 collected of the target of $15,000. Donations may be made to Box 516 and receipts will be mailed. All proceeds go to aid crippled children.

Council Censure By Police Board

CATTER PITTER PITTER PITTER HERE SO SOON?

Head for the storm shelters, fruit growers.

The advance guard of tent caterpillars has arrived. First colony was reported today in the Harriet area, Saanich.

The little wrigglers were reported alive and hungry, attached to an apple tree. Danger is they'll move elsewhere for sustenance prior to the arrival of apple leaves.

Gardeners are advised to keep a sharp lookout for the invaders, and, if possible, keep a good supply of early birds on hand for the early worms.

Interference Charged In Esquimalt Dispute

A motion censuring Esquimalt council for "interference with police commission activities" was passed by the three-man commission this morning.

Commissioner David Douglas made the motion, stating:

"We deplore council interference in activities of the police commission."

Elvan Walters seconded the motion and chairman Reeve A. C. Wurtele voted in favor.

The reeve, as head of both commission and council, said he didn't think council had interfered with the commission, so he did not oppose the censure motion.

Commissioners Douglas and Walters disputed with the reeve over a council move to investigate possibility of RCMP law enforcement in Esquimalt.

They claimed the police commission should have been consulted prior to a letter of inquiry being written by the reeve on instruction from council.

LOSE MONEY

"This proposal comes as a surprise," said Mr. Douglas. "It warrants much more consideration than this. If council considers it, the municipality stands to lose more than $25,000."

Reeve Wurtele countered: "Council is perfectly within its rights to send a confidential letter of inquiry to the RCMP to see if they could be used to police the municipality."

"I don't see that the commission can take exception to that."

FROM SPITE

"Well, I do," returned Mr. Douglas. "In the Municipal Act the matter of police falls to the commission."

"I think it comes from spite," put in Mr. Walters.

"Council is perfectly within its rights to discuss the idea with the solicitor," said the reeve.

"Was it a secret meeting?" Mr. Walters asked.

"I'm not going to tell you what was discussed. It wasn't a council meeting or in committee. It's the municipality's business and I have the right to discuss anything I like with the solicitor," the reeve said.

The proposal was first talked over with the municipality's legal adviser, then council issued instructions to write the RCMP.

IRRESPONSIBLE

Commissioner Douglas remarked on "irresponsible statements" which appeared in the press, mentioning particularly the reference to a volunteer fire department to take over fire protection if the RCMP was called in.

Mr. Wurtele replied he was asked if it was true there had been a letter written to the RCMP.

"I answered there had been a letter. It is unfortunate because the matter was confidential."

"It is obvious to me it was done on the spur of the moment," Mr. Douglas said. "There should have been more consideration given to it. Why weren't we consulted?"

"Council does not wish to take away from the power of the commission. We are simply inquiring."

IT SMELLS

"Council has found fault with every raise we've given police," Mr. Walters put in. "The whole thing smells. First they (council) tried to get rid of the police commission."

"Where did you get that statement?" the reeve demanded. "No one has the right to disclose that type of information. I don't remember that coming up at all."

Mr. Walters said he heard the remark from a source in one of the shipyards.

The commission received and filed a letter from the police union asking permission to meet council and commissioners. The union will be told it must state the nature of its business before consent is granted.

"It is not in order for council to meet the union. The commission is responsible for police affairs," said the reeve.

LIKE GENTLEMEN

"Until this year we've been able to sit around the commission table and discuss things like gentlemen," said Mr. Walters.

"Since the beginning of the year there have been nothing but threats of veto from the direction of council."

"If there's any blame, let's put it on my shoulders," offered the reeve.

"I'm beginning to think the business of the police commission is no longer worthwhile. Just what are our duties?" commissioner Douglas inquired.

He added: "Why was the letter written? Was it inefficiency? If so, that's our job. Was it high costs? We've bargained in good faith..."

NO INEFFICIENCY

"It's unfair to suggest there was any inefficiency," the reeve said.

The other two wanted to know what was in the letter, and Mr. Walters made a further reference to secret meetings.

"We've heard of the iron curtain in other countries," suggested Mr. Douglas.

"There's no iron curtain," insisted Reeve Wurtele. "Meetings are all open to the public and the press."

He denied having made a statement regarding possible use of a volunteer fire department.

ASK THE TIMES

Q.—Can you give me the exact location where Marlon Brando is now working? What picture is he making and for what motion picture company? —S.W.

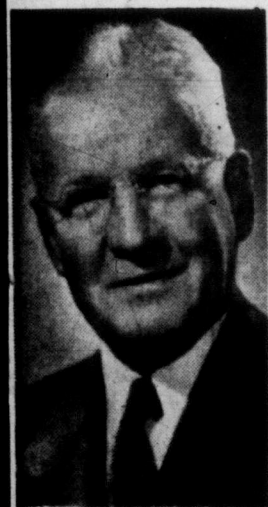

A.—The information desired is not at present available to this column. Perhaps, if you would write to one of the Hollywood movie magazines, whose whole interest is in motion picture actors and companies, you would receive the information.

Q.—Was the Douglas Hotel here formerly known under another name? —L.T.C.

A.—Yes. This is shown by an advertisement in the Times of March 31, 1916, and on other dates in that year: "For a quiet, restful, home-like hotel try the Prince George (opposite the City Hall). This first-class hostelry is absolutely fireproof."

Anyone wishing a question answered is invited to send the problem along to The Times, addressed to "Ask The Times" Editor. Questions and answers will be published daily.

All questions should deal with matters of fact and be of general interest. The Times does not undertake to solve conundrums.

GUEST SPEAKER at annual meeting of Victoria and Island branch, Canadian Manufacturers' Association in Pacific Club next Monday will be T. A. Rice, national president, who is one of Canada's outstanding industrialists.

Census Taking Late in May

Preparations for taking of the census in Victoria in the latter part of May are expected to speed up shortly.

City lawyer Arthur Burns, who was appointed recently to carry the giant task of counting noses here said today that special familiarization classes will be held between April 24 and 26 for commissioners and census supervisors.

Details and forms are expected from Ottawa soon. The project is expected to start about the end of May.

If the pattern set in the 1951 census is followed, the job will take about three days with mopping up extending over a two-week period.

Mr. Burns, who was in charge of the census in this area in 1951 said about 75 enumerators, mostly pensioners or unemployed, were used for the work although some housewives are included.

He said he has a list of about 100 applicant enumerators now but tests to be undertaken by the group is expected to reduce the number.

Beginners Learn Game With Budget-Priced Chess Set

By PENNY SAVER

Whenever I've heard anyone speak of the Royal Game of Chess, I envisioned deep, involved problems being worked out over ornate, and very expensive chess figures. In many ways, this is so to past masters of the game, but for beginners, who are usually a little leery of learning the game in the first place, this isn't the case at all. I had peeked into some chess books dealing with the mysterious rules and goings on of the game, and had come away completely confused. Now, I find, I was looking in the wrong books. What I needed was a beginners' book, like the chess primer I've found in town. It explains the game, and encourages the beginner to try it out. This instruction book is 35 cents.

As for the expensive set, your mind may be put at ease for there's a carved, polished wood set in a slide top box that sells for $3.50. They're hand-carved in France, and are very good looking pieces.

The game itself is a well-established one, and there are conflicting accounts as to where it originated. Opinions in one part say it may be traced to the sixth century and originates in India. It's also said that it goes back 5,000 years and originates in Hindustan. From the sixth to 15th century, little changes were made in the original game, and from the 15th century until the present date, the same rules and same types of movement of chessmen have prevailed.

Chess is one of the favorite two-player indoor sports.

In a large fitted box, complete with instruction booklet and board, are replicas of 11th-century figures priced at $10.95. This set is made of cast plastic that looks like ivory. Both black and white figurines are beautifully moulded, and are padded with felt on the bottoms.

If you're planning an evening at home and want to make it a real family affair, you might be interested in the new playing card game, "Calypso." It may be played with up to four or five players. Rule book, score pads, calypso square, suit indicators and four packs of playing cards come in set boxes. As in most games, the sets may be bought at various prices. These cost $3.75, $4.95 and $5.95. Everyone in the family can play, and have an enjoyable evening.

If you'd like to know where to find the items mentioned, call me at 2-3131 and I'll give you the names of the stores where I saw them.

Handle Family Finances In a Businesslike Way

By ELIZABETH B. HURLOCK, PhD

Financial matters within a family should be treated in as businesslike a manner as between outsiders.

Q: "When my husband went into the service, which was before we were married, his mother told him to send his cheques to her so she could put it all aside for him. When he came home, after two years in the service, he asked her for his bankbook and found that, in the whole time, she had put in only one cheque for $65. He still had three months before he was discharged, so he kept that money which wasn't much to get married on."

"His mother has never said where the money was or what happened to it and he has never asked her. We wanted to get married without any trouble. But it means we have no money set aside and now I am having a baby and we could use that money. Don't you think he should ask his mother what happened to the money?" M.R.

A: I certainly do think your husband should ask his mother what she did with the money he sent her while he was in the service. From what you have said, she offered to deposit it for him, or put it away for safe-keeping so he would have it when he finished his period of service.

To be able to save money for his marriage to you, he made sacrifices in things he might otherwise have had while he was away from home. Now, after two years, he has only a meagre sum to show for the work he did and the sacrifices he made. He has a right to have that money.

Unless there was some understanding between them that he was giving her the money, and this seems unlikely from what you have said, then she had no right to use it or to put it in her own account.

If she refuses to return the money, your husband may have trouble getting it back as he doubtless had only a verbal agreement with her, and she could easily say her son was sending it home to help her out financially. I suggest you urge your husband to consult a lawyer, if your mother-in-law refuses to return the money, and let him advise you about what steps you could take to get back the money that is rightfully your husband's.

Write for Elizabeth B. Hurlock's new 64-page booklet, "You and Your Problems," care of this newspaper, sending 25 cents in coin to cover cost.

Delegates Named by BPW Club

Appointment of delegates to the national convention of Business and Professional Women's Clubs in Montreal in July and to the provincial conference in May, at Pinewood Lodge on the Hope-Princeton Highway, was main business at meeting of the Victoria club held last Monday evening.

Mrs. Ruby Masters and Miss Lillian Henderson were named to represent the club at the national convention and Mrs. Marguerite Laughlin and Mrs. Masters were named delegates for the provincial conference. Earlier this year, Mrs. Masters, Miss Henderson and Mrs. Laughlin were named observers to the International Congress of Business and Professional Women, which takes place in Montreal prior to the national convention.

Plans for the annual musicale to be held in May, at the Oak Bay Beach Hotel, were discussed and Mrs. Lillian Smith was named convener. Mrs. Laughlin presided.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Tooth Decay Problems Are Almost Universal

Recently The American Dental Association made a survey which shows that more than 15,000 white males of different age groups. It is the rare man or woman indeed who never has to have a tooth filled. Ninety-eight per cent of the population have tooth decay at one time or another.

The survey I mentioned showed that at four years of age teeth needing fillings averaged 3.05. This increased until the peak between the ages of 15 to 19. After this there is a regular decline until the age of 60 when there is a big drop, to less than one tooth needing filling.

Another study of 22,000 white females demonstrated a similar trend.

Tooth decay may begin any time after the baby teeth appear and may be a real problem by the age of three. It is important to take care of the teeth, both the primary ones of the child, and the permanent ones. Do you know just what causes decay or caries? Research has shown that the foremost cause is the action of certain bacteria which cause fermentation of carbohydrates, especially sugar.

the saliva from washing the acid and bacteria away.

The greatest damage occurs within 30 minutes after eating and in some instances within a few minutes afterwards. Therefore, you can readily see why it is so important to brush the teeth immediately after eating whenever this is possible. Even rinsing the mouth out with water is helpful if brushing is impossible.

The parts of the tooth which are most likely to suffer decay are the crevices and fissures and the parts which are in contact with adjoining teeth.

Mrs. Mills Named New Prov. Head

In annual meeting held in the YWCA in Vancouver last Monday, Mrs. Elizabeth Mills of Victoria was elected president of the provincial branch of the Canadian Association of Consumers. Other officers are: Vice-presidents, Mrs. B. McCloskey, Vancouver; Mrs. O. Lionel, Nanaimo; Mrs. E. Gower, Victoria; corresponding secretary, Mrs. L. A. Gordon, Victoria; recording, Mrs. J. L. Andrews, Victoria; treasurer and membership, Mrs. L. V. Lillio, Vancouver.

Members-at-large are Mrs. I. Spence, Vancouver Business and Professional Women's Club; Mrs. A. W. McGhie, IODE, Vancouver and Mrs. H. A. Chisholm, Victoria.

Miss Charlotte Blake, retiring president, was in the chair. Plans were made to work for increased availability of women's dresses, sizes 16 to 20, in up-to-date well-designed styles in attractive materials and colors.

DRESS DESIGNS
It was also hoped that the CAC textile committee would study the design of dresses for mature women's figures in better-type and house dresses, with special attention to sleeve-length.

Standardization in sizes of clothing has long been a wish of this consumers' group and at the annual meeting they added that "tall, medium and short" should also be included in labeling.

It was decided that Canadian shoe manufacturers should produce styles that will compete favorably with the United States designs, and they should be more generally available. The meeting expressed the hope that the national group will act on this matter.

Pileofilm containers, cartons and combination cardboard and pileofilm, should not bear printed matter, as it is "too close to deceptive packaging as it obscures contents," it was decided.

Members were asked to write their MP's protesting sale of surplus butter at a lower price to foreign people than to Canadians. It should be available at the lower rate in Canada, they said.

Exemption from tax on household fuels will also be sought.

More Married
Of all females over 14 years old in the United States in 1954, 39.5 per cent were single, compared to 33.3 per cent in 1900.

BACKS CANCER CAMPAIGN

Mrs. Frank Mackenzie Ross, who was head of the B.C. Cancer Foundation prior to coming to Government House and who has the work of the foundation much at heart, was a visitor to the cancer clinic at Royal Jubilee Hospital Tuesday afternoon. Accompanying her through the clinic was, from the left, Mrs. P. E. Corby, a member of the advisory board, and Miss Lucie Woodrow, superintendent of nurses at the hospital. Miss Ruth Erikson, pathologist assistant, second from right, explained some of the important work she does in the clinic.

National President Honored

Mrs. Frank Mackenzie Ross, who is honorary president of the provincial branch of the Canadian Association of Consumers, was hostess at a luncheon at Government House on Tuesday to honor the national president, Mme. H. E. Vautelet, CBE, who was in Victoria on a brief visit. Other guests were Mrs. Elizabeth Mills, newly elected provincial president, and Mrs. Somers Clark, president of the Victoria branch.

On Tuesday afternoon, Mrs. Clark and members of the executive of the Victoria branch were hostesses at a tea in the Empress Hotel in honor of Mme. Vautelet.

Pre-Wedding Presentation

Miss Grace Adams, whose marriage to Mr. Edward W. Hanning takes place this Saturday, was honored at a meeting of the B.C. Government Employees' Association of which she has been an executive member. A pair of silver candlesticks and a scroll was presented to Miss Adams on behalf of the officers and members.

Feted at Bridal Shower

A miscellaneous bridal shower honoring Miss Ruth Hall was given recently by Mrs. Richard F. Hall, 569 Hurst avenue. A corsage of pink roses was presented to the honor guest, and her mother, Mrs. Frank Hall, received a corsage of pink carnations. Guests included Mrs. George Smith, Mrs. Alex Hendry, Mrs. Frank Birtwistle, Mrs. Sam Gregory, Mrs. Gordon Knill, Mrs. Cliff Gregory, Mrs. Arthur Deaville, Mrs. Fred Wheelie, Mrs. Bill Deaville, Mrs. Ralph Holt, Mrs. Gordon Birtwistle, Mrs. Ted Parham, Mrs. Bill Waddell, Mrs. R. Cocktail Hour Party

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Easton entertained at their home at 3032 Eastdowne on Tuesday afternoon at the cocktail hour in honor of Mr. Howard Beaton, western sales manager of Investors' Syndicate of Canada, who is here on his semi-annual inspection tour.

A Coffee Party

Mrs. W. A. Bayliss was hostess this morning with a coffee party at her home, 3421 Mayfair Drive, to honor Mrs. A. Bagatini, newly installed Queen of the Nile. Gold, green and white, colors of the Daughters of the Nile, were seen on the coffee table where iris and daffodils formed the centerpiece. A large cake bearing the wish, "Happy Reign, Queen Ann" was cut by the guest of honor. Presiding at the coffee table were Mrs. T. Clarke and Mrs. R. Irvine. Among the 38 guests were Mrs. DeVida, of San Francisco, sister of Mrs. Bagatini; past queens and line officers.

For Miss Lynas

Miss Carol Lynas, bride-elect of this month, was guest of honor at a surprise shower, recently, at the home of Mrs. R. Jones, Blenkinsop road. She was presented with a corsage of pink carnations, and her mother, Mrs. J. Lynas, received a corsage of spring flowers. A decorated basket held gifts. Guests included Mrs. H. Arkinstall, Mrs. A. Veitch, Mrs. R. Fernyhough, Mrs. M. Roberts, Miss M. Lynas, Miss L. Curtis and Miss R. Davies.

Miss Lynas was also honored when Miss Doreen Munro and Miss Wilma Wright were co-hostesses at a miscellaneous shower at the home of the latter, 1345 Haultain Street. The honor guest was presented with a red rose and hyacinth corsage, and her mother, and mother of the groom-elect, Mrs. H. Arkinstall, received spring flower corsages. A decorated basket held gifts, and refreshments were served. Invited guests included Mrs. E. Stewart, Mrs. H. Bishop, Mrs. R. Purvey, Mrs. A. Tregear, Mrs. L. Blackhall, Mrs. T. Williams, Mrs. B. Harford and Misses M. Lynas, O. Williams, J. Harwood, I. Lee, A. Creasey, R. Oliver, K. Chamberlain, S. Banfield, J. Stearn, I. Thorpe, R. Osselson, W. Wright and D. Munro.

Consumer Group Head Says Women in Control of Buying

"Buying is Canada's biggest single business — and women manage it," Mme. H. E. Vautelet, CBE, national president of the Canadian Association of Consumers, told a meeting in the YWCA, Tuesday evening.

"Women do 80 per cent of the buying and they greatly influence the other 20 per cent," she said.

Emphasizing the importance of this buying power, Mme. Vautelet said that "what and how we buy decides how materials and manpower, too, will be used in Canada."

"In the last 50 or 60 years we have drained away manpower from the farms," she said, "and we didn't know we were doing it. When we turn to buying manufactured luxuries, more and more it takes manpower away from necessary industries such as agriculture and fishing," she said.

"Every luxury you buy puts the price of food up." The speaker pointed out that the CAC is not an organization to bring down prices, although it does investigate if it finds unfair prices in any field. "We must make this business of producing and selling rewarding if we want to retain it," she said. "We are trying hard to

CAC Drive For Members

Mme. H. E. Vautelet, CBE, national president of the Canadian Association of Consumers, touched off a membership drive for the association in Victoria, Tuesday evening, when she spoke to an audience that filled the lecture hall at the YWCA to capacity.

The drive is being held across Canada with the slogan "double national membership in two weeks."

The all-woman Canadian Association of Consumers has held a unique spot in world history for the past nine years. "If we are to add to this nine years of life we must double our present membership," Mme. Vautelet said.

"There has been a tremendous growth in CAC work but not in the numbers who are carrying on this work," she pointed out.

The speaker said proudly that there is no other consumer organization of this kind in the world.

She had received enquiries from "unbelievers" in the British Isles and western Europe saying "we want to know more about this organization which has changed the attitudes of government and industry in Canada."

I ran across an interesting article on laughter the other day. It seems certain doctors believe that laughter actually contributes to the health and well-being of children, since it relieves tension and stimulates many body functions. Interesting case in point: in a large metropolitan hospital, many of the doctors are convinced that when the circus folk visit in the children's wards the healing process is speeded by the spontaneous laughter of the little ones.

Meat of the matter. Gerber Strained Meats, specially prepared for babies, are rich in the complete proteins needed for growth and the development of all body structures. Made from selected juicy cuts, they're carefully processed to remove most of the fat and fiber and preserve the savory, true-meat flavors. 6 Strained, 3 Junior Meats for tots with a few teeth.

Sweet scent-iments. A pair of baby's out-grown booties can be transformed into charming sachets for lingerie or linen drawers. Just fill booties with cotton, sprinkled with sachet or cologne, tie shut with ribbon tops.

Delicious, nutritious addition to baby's diet — Gerber Strained Egg Yolks. A creamy, custard-like texture and a delicate, fresh-egg flavor make Gerber Egg Yolks particularly palatable to baby. Nourishing, too, because they're rich in iron and vitamin A and a good supplementary source of protein. Important point: Gerber Egg Yolks are heat-sterilized for baby's protection. Bridal Beauty

As wedding plans and increasing festivities draw her closer and closer to her wedding day, a gal needs to keep a level head on her shoulders about beauty. Wedding-day beauty is the kind that no one-day, slap-dash effort can produce. Like a photographic model's, it needs to be through-and-through beauty, built with the solid material of lots of sleep, sound diet and lots of soap.

No amount of cosmetics can rectify the damage that too much partying and not enough rest can do. And a gal really wants that clear, translucent glow of happiness and beauty on her wedding day.

Start with the feet. Many wrinkles and frowns on a youthful brow can be traced to feet that hurt. And standing for fittings, being the guest of honor at showers and shopping for a trousseau aren't tonics for the feet.

Each night, soak the weary feet in a shallow bath of warm soapy water. Exercise the toes, arches and ankles. If the feet throb, follow the foot bath with a period of lying flat on the floor, with the legs up against the wall.

Lovely bride is glowing with health, cleanliness and happiness. Cosmetics are used sparingly. Nylon organdie gown by Miriam Originals.

A leisurely soak in the tub should be a nightly routine before the wedding. Aside from its cleansing virtues, it will make it easier to sleep during the exciting prewedding period. Make a nailbrush and a razor, for scrubbing out imbedded dirt and shaving legs and underarms, part of the tubbing routine. A manicure is also possible in the tub, with the help of a bath tray. Shiny clean hair is vital. A good sudsy shampoo, until the hair squeaks, should be a weekly matter previous to the wedding. Plan the shampoo during the wedding week so that your hair will be at its maximum manageability and cleanliness on the big day.

Beauty for a bride starts long before the big day. To keep feet comfortable and soft, even after hours of fittings, a foot-bath is recommended (left). Feet should be soaked in warm water and suds; toes should be flexed and ankles rotated to relieve tired muscles. This will keep feet in trim for the receiving line. A relaxing daily bath, with attention to fingernails and hands (above) will assure perfection on the wedding day. Bath tray makes manicure-in-the-tub possible.

Cosmetics to go with a wedding gown should be subtle, but clear. No muddy colors should be present. When planning make-up, keep in mind it will have to go unretouched for several hours and you will have to kiss a variety of relatives. If you wear powder and foundation, don't forget neck and shoulders, if they're going to show.

A quick route to utter distraction is a day in the infants' clothing department. Does Baby wear a size 2, a year-old size, a 25-pound size or what? Answer: take along overalls that fit comfortably and compare leg length and waist measure. Taking Baby is madness.

"Where did Baby go?" wondered one mother. She found him shut inside a clothes closet. That was the day she put hook-and-eye hardware on the doors, about five feet off the ground.

HMCS Naden Chapel Scene of Recent Exchange of Vows

Of interest in Victoria, Vancouver and Brandon, Man., is the wedding of Miss Katherine Audrey Kreutzweiser, only daughter of Ira Hector Kreutzweiser, Vancouver, and the late Mrs. Kreutzweiser, to Leonard Archibald Massina, R.C.N. son of Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Massina, of Brandon, Man.

Rev. J. E. Williams performed the ceremony in St. Andrew's Chapel, HMCS Naden.

The bride's father came from Vancouver to give her in marriage. For the ceremony Miss Kreutzweiser wore a princess style navy taffeta dress with white accessories and corsage of red roses.

She was attended by Mrs. John Scott, who wore a mauve suit with white accessories and yellow rosebud corsage. The groom asked John Scott to be best man.

A reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Scott, at 1705 Ryan Street. Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Tait, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Morris, Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Murray, Mr. and Mrs. William Boucher, Miss Beverley Ross and Mr. Anthony Walls.

After a short trip, Mr. and Mrs. Massina will live at 337 Michigan Street.

Nuptial Mass In Cathedral

Miss Jeanne Antonia Vanderbyl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Vanderbyl, 2404 Cook Street, exchanged wedding vows with Raymond Joseph Guillemaud, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Guillemaud, 3375 Biscoe Drive, Saturday morning in St. Andrew's Cathedral. Father Johnson conducted the nuptial mass.

During the signing of the register, Mrs. W. Rogers sang "Ave Maria" and organ music was played by Miss M. McKay.

The bride's ballerina-length gown featured a bouffant skirt of net over taffeta with lace bodice, long, fitted sleeves, and Peter Pan collar. A coronet of orange blossoms held her fingertip veil and she carried a bouquet of red roses and white carnations. Her father gave her in marriage.

Only attendant was Miss Claire Guillemaud, who wore a blue taffeta ballerina-length gown styled with bateau neckline and full skirt. She wore a matching hat and carried a bouquet of pink and white carnations. Best man was Charles W. Martin.

At a reception in the home of the bride's parents, H. Zethof proposed the toast to the bride. Mrs. Guillemaud donned a blue linen dress with matching jacket, ivory-toned accessories and a corsage of red rosebuds for her honeymoon on the mainland.

The couple will make their home at Nanaimo.

School for experts. These men are already skilled mechanics. But they're getting a post-graduate course in the newest engineering advances in GM cars — at a GM Service Training Centre. This training is available to the service mechanics of dealers who sell General Motors cars and trucks.

Secret of success: Happy Customers

ADVANCED ENGINEERING mustn't stop when new cars roll off the assembly line.

Those cars, as General Motors builds them, sparkle with engineering advances unknown a few years ago.

They have such safety features as Power Steering and Power Brakes.

They have high-compression V8 engines of latest design.

They have smooth and agile new automatic transmissions.

They have air conditioning and improved ventilation systems.

And they have a long list of other new safety and convenience features.

And just as it took new skills, new machines and new tools to build them — it takes new skills, new machines and new tools to give them the intelligent service they need, in the service departments of General Motors dealers from coast to coast.

And here you have a perfect example of what General Motors and the dealers who sell GM cars and trucks are accomplishing together.

Recently, General Motors has established Training Centres in 10 strategically-located cities — especially planned to give GM dealers' service mechanics exactly the special new skills they need to carry the advantages of advanced engineering to the car and truck owners of their neighborhoods.

They learn how each new engineering feature is built — and what tools are used to service it efficiently. Even a veteran mechanic needs such training.

And GM dealers are doing their part by sending a full complement of their mechanics to get this advanced engineering training — so they can give the best of care to the ever-increasing number of new GM products people buy every year.

No other dealer group in Canada has a service training that approaches this one.

That may be one reason why GM and the vast majority of General Motors dealers work so profitably together.

Andy, who is a stick, not a person, will answer two questions daily submitted by child readers of Canada and the U.S. Children who submit the questions he selects to answer will receive as prizes, for the main question, either a 16-volume set of "The Children's Hour" or a 20-volume set of "The American People's Encyclopedia Year Book" or a 20-volume set of "The American People's Encyclopedia Year Book" or a 20-volume set of "The American People's Encyclopedia Year Book" or a 20-volume set of "The American People's Encyclopedia Year Book".

Address your questions to "Ask Andy" Victoria Daily Times, Victoria.

Andy sends a complete, 20-volume set of The American Peoples Encyclopedia to Dottie Witzel, aged 12, of Columbia, S.C., for her question:

Why Does a Frog's Neck Stick Out When He Croaks?

Those croaking frogs are actually singing. The music is made by a male chorus serenading the lady frogs. Few lady frogs bother to sing. Most of them have no singing voices at all. The frog chorus may not sound so beautiful to us. But it has an amazing record. For the frogs and the toads were the very first backboned animals to have any kind of a voice. The frog chorus is the oldest singing in the world.

When you talk or sing, you have to open your mouth. So do the birds and most other animals. Not so the frog. When he sings, or croaks, he closes his mouth up tight. He also closes up his nostrils. While he is croaking he is not breathing.

What he does is this. He holds his breath and sends it back and forth between his mouth and his lungs. On the way air is forced over the vocal cords in the frog's throat. There is also a vocal pouch which acts as a microphone. It is a bag of loose skin under the throat. This pouch balloons in and out as it fills and empties with air. It adds the resonant carrying power to the froggy croak.

This is the movement you see around the neck when a frog croaks. It is his vocal pouch filling up with air. The actual sound is made by the vocal cords. The extra rumble is given by the air forced in and out of the vocal pouch. Meantime, the frog's mouth and nostrils are tightly closed.

The frog chorus starts in early spring. Warm spring weather wakes up the singers from their winter sleep. Some are already near the water. Those that are not set out at once for the streams and ponds. For spring is the egg-laying season in the frog world and frogs' eggs must be laid in or near the water. The male frogs arrive at the ponds first. The chorus is started by the earliest arrival. The chorus grows as other frogs arrive.

There are some 90 different kinds of frogs and toads. Each of them has his own special

Andy sends a year's subscription to Treasure Trails to James J. Smith, age 11, of Allentown, Penna., for his question:

Are the holes in Swiss cheese necessary?

In order to make Swiss cheese, the cheese maker must make a trade with a tiny bacterium. The little creature is far too small to be seen, but he has been given a sizeable name, perhaps in honor of his hard work. He is known as Propionibacterium. He will call him PH for short.

PH and countless numbers of his small relatives are given their favorite food and their favorite climate. Their food is milk—sweet, fresh milk. Rennet is added to the brew and the milk curdles. The curd is cut into small pieces and heated to a high temperature.

Later it is left to drain dry. This treatment suits the host of little bacteria. They eat and eat and multiply and multiply. In the process, they give off certain gases. The gas cannot escape through the hardening cheese. So it collects in round balloons. These balloons of gas cause the holes, or eyes, present in the Swiss cheese.

King's Love Affair With Dancer Denied

LONDON (Reuters) — The Jordanian ambassador in London Tuesday night declared that a night club dancer's story of a love affair with his 20-year-old king was inspired by sources hostile to Jordan.

Ambassador Yusuf Haikal summoned a press conference to deny dancer Helene Morris' claim that "I love King Hussein and I know he loves me." The story was published in a Sunday newspaper here.

Haikal told reporters he is "personally aware" that the king did not know the 22-year-old dancer and he disbelieves her claim to have letters from the king.

In a formal statement the ambassador said: "Those behind the story have the obvious purpose of harming Jordan and the reputation of King Hussein."

Miss Morris' story was front-paged in The People.

'Her Grace' Practices Royal Script

ABOARD SS. CONSTITUTION (UP) — Actress Grace Kelly said today she was practicing a new, sweeping, European-type signature in line with her future role as a serene highness.

Grace made the confession at a shipboard news conference, the last she will hold before she joins Prince Rainier II Thursday aboard his yacht—perhaps the last she will ever hold.

"Europeans have wonderful sweeping signatures and I'm afraid I don't," she said.

She was caught in her bathtub when Spanish newsmen and photographers swarmed aboard. She slipped quickly into a bare-shouldered evening dress and met them on deck.

Grace arrived 15 minutes late for the news conference, carrying her poodle, Oliver.

She explained this may be her last interview for many months since "everything will be up to the prince" after she arrives in Monaco tomorrow for her April 19 wedding.

A friend of the Kelly family who has been in on the romance from the beginning predicted that after the wedding the prince will prefer a bit of anonymity instead of the current blaze of publicity.

'La Baker' Farewell

Rings Parisians' Bell

PARIS (Reuters) — A packed house in the Olympia Music Hall here wildly applauded American music hall star Josephine Baker when she made a farewell appearance Tuesday night. After singing old favorites, "La Baker" joined the audience to watch a show put on for her by Paris stars. Miss Baker now is on a final tour before retiring.

50 Homeless

After Fire
In Ontario Town

CORNWALL, Ont. (CP) — Fire Tuesday night destroyed six frame homes in East Cornwall, leaving about 50 persons homeless.

No one was injured in the blaze, which was checked in three hours. Loss was unofficially estimated at more than $100,000.

Ten families were left homeless and another five driven out when two more homes were damaged.

It was the worst blaze in Cornwall since Christmas Eve, 1947, when a business block was levelled with loss of $500,000.

They pastor says: "It is impossible to say how many our prayers have helped to save."

"I think every church should have a prayer group like this," Rev. William Whalley declared. "It is a wonderful thing."

On the day the child was wheeled into the operating room, Mr. Whalley went into his church and prayed for an hour.

"I had a strong feeling of peace at the exact time the child came out of the theatre," he said. "The operation was a success."

The next time a person was ill, the minister asked his church members to pray with him. Now calls reach him from all over Britain.

Anti-Negroes Attack Cole In Dixie Hall

Abduction Plot Foiled in Melee

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (UP) — Negro musician Nat King Cole promised today his show would go on in Dixie despite the intimidation by three white segregationists who pounced on him while he was singing to a packed audience and attempted to abduct him.

Cole received a slight back injury in the on-stage melee Tuesday night but came back to finish his singing performance after being treated by a doctor.

His manager, Robert Schwartz of New York, said Cole would go right ahead with his scheduled tour of southern states where racial incidents have occurred regularly in recent months.

The men who attacked Cole were intercepted by police before they could carry out their apparent plan to abduct the Negro musician. They were hustled to jail and charged with inciting a riot. Three others were booked on the same charge as accomplices.

Kenneth Adams, 35, a member of the Anniston, Ala., White Citizens' Council board of directors, was identified as the apparent leader of the attack on Cole.

The Anniston council recently announced a campaign to rid Alabama of "rock and roll" music on charges it is "immoral" and inspired by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People as a form of "integration brain wash" for southern white teenagers.

Cole is not a "rock and roll" artist. He is a master of the smooth school.

Police said they had been tipped there might be trouble at the municipal auditorium where Cole was scheduled to appear before a packed audience of 3,000 white people.

'Prayer-by-Telephone' To Fight Sickness

AYR, Scotland (Reuters) — Thirty churchgoers in this Scottish town fight disease and death with a "prayer-by-telephone" system.

Their pastor says: "It is impossible to say how many our prayers have helped to save."

"I think every church should have a prayer group like this," Rev. William Whalley declared. "It is a wonderful thing."

On the day the child was wheeled into the operating room, Mr. Whalley went into his church and prayed for an hour.

"I had a strong feeling of peace at the exact time the child came out of the theatre," he said. "The operation was a success."

The next time a person was ill, the minister asked his church members to pray with him. Now calls reach him from all over Britain.

A London woman was given up by doctors as a hopeless case. The churchgoers prayed, and gradually she recovered. Last week she walked into the church.

FUNNYMAN FRED ALLEN MADE HIMSELF MILLION

NEW YORK (AP) — Fred Allen, the humorist, left an estate valued at more than $1,000,000, a family source said Tuesday.

Allen bequeathed half the estate to his widow, Portland Hoffa.

He also specified that she receive the interest from the remaining half, which he set up as a trust fund for three young nieces by marriage, who ultimately will get the principal.

"Beau Brummel"
(In Beautiful Eastman Color)
The story of Beau Brummel has left its mark on the pages of history. These were the days of Napoleon, Nelson, Wellington and Pitt. Colorful days, full of interest and romance. The critics' rating is "Excellent."

NEW IDEA!

A MIX TO MAKE SALAD DRESSING

It's here, at your grocer's, today!
A famous Hollywood chef's secret blend of fresh herbs and rare spices, Good Seasons Salad Dressing Mix comes in an envelope. All you do is add vinegar, water, salad oil—and shake. In seconds you have fresh, chef style salad dressing!

Special 4-piece Kit Illustrated below, the Good Seasons kit contains streamlined self-measuring bottle, two different Good Seasons Salad Dressing Mixes and salad recipe booklet. Now at your favorite food store for only 49¢.

Fresher than ready-made, faster than home-made, Good Seasons comes in three flavors—Old Fashion French, Bleu Cheese, Old Fashion Garlic. Each makes 8 full ounces of the best salad dressing you ever tasted. In individual envelopes—any two for 39¢.

$2.8 Million Plane For Queen's Fleet?

LONDON (Reuters) — Col. Marcus Lipton, a Labor member of Parliament, will try in next week's budget debate to bring up reports that £1,000,000 may be spent on a Britannia turbo-propeller airliner for the Queen's personal fleet of planes. Questions about the private budget, most issues involving

Seven Bodies Discovered In Air Wrecks

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP). — Rescue workers Tuesday night found seven bodies in the wreckage of two airplanes which vanished with eight passengers in central Alaska on Monday.

Wells Ervin, an Anchorage businessman, was found pinned inside the broken remains of one aircraft. His condition was not immediately determined.

All six persons aboard a Cordova Airlines plane were killed when the twin-engine craft crashed at the 3,000-foot level in rugged mountain country 75 miles southwest of here on the Kenai Peninsula, airline officials reported here.

Haakon Christensen, the pilot of the second plane, in which Ervin was a passenger, was killed when the twin-engine amphibious Grumman crashed five miles short of its destination at Cordova, 150 miles southeast of Anchorage.

BRITISH COLUMBIA POWER COMMISSION

Upper Campbell Lake Development

One 37,500 KVA Power Transformer

The British Columbia Power Commission, P.O. Box 500, Victoria, B.C., will receive sealed tenders until 12 o'clock noon, Pacific Daylight Saving Time, May 15th, 1956, for the supply and supervision of erection of one 37,500 KVA power transformer required for the Upper Campbell Lake Development on Vancouver Island.

Copies of specifications may be obtained from the Commission's office at Victoria, B.C., upon deposit of $25.00 each, which is refundable when the specification is returned in an undamaged condition. A copy may also be seen at the office of the Secretary of the Building and Construction Industries Exchange at 342 West Pender Street, Vancouver, B.C.

Tenders will be opened in public at the Commission's office, Victoria, at 2:00 p.m., Pacific Daylight Saving Time, May 15th, 1956, and the lowest or any tender will not necessarily be accepted.

national expenditure can be discussed. Lipton is believed to oppose allocating an aircraft of such size and performance as the Britannia exclusively for Royal journeys.

Newspaper reports this week said that Sir Edward Fielden, captain of the Queen's air fleet, would fly in a Britannia and that test landings would be made at Dyce, near Balmoral, the Queen's Scottish home, and Wick, near the Scottish residence, of Queen Mother Elizabeth.

No date has in fact been set for such a flight, authoritative sources said Tuesday night.

The Queen's present air fleet consists mainly of Viking planes driven by twin piston engines, which have been in service for about 10 years. It has one up-to-date addition—a small Heron airliner which the Queen's husband, the Duke of Edinburgh, pilots himself.

There were reports some time ago that the Queen's air fleet might get a Viscount turbo-prop airliner of the type now in service with 24 world airlines, especially fitted out as a "very important person's" aircraft. The Viscount, a shorter-range plane with a smaller carrying capacity than the Britannia, costs about £300,000.

The Daily Herald, organ of the Labor Party, raised the matter Monday in an article which said the Vikings, first used when the late King George VI's air fleet was created 10 years ago, now are becoming obsolete. But it asked whether the new royal plane would have to cost £1,000,000.

Two FOR THE Show

By PHIL LEE

A—Oscar Class A—Don't Miss B—Worthwhile B—For a Rainy Afternoon C—To Put in Time

(A) "THE LAST HUNT" (Royal)—For those interested in comparatively recent Americana and the story of the North American bison, MGM's "The Last Hunt" will provide engrossing entertainment.

Pictured in the historic Black Hills of South Dakota in the magnificent beauty of Custer State Park, "The Last Hunt" portrays many of the stories we have read, about how the great beasts once roamed the plains in their millions and how man's greed and rifles decimated them to a mere 3,000.

ROBERT TAYLOR AND Stewart Granger are the buffalo hunters in the year 1883. Taylor is a trigger-happy type who finds delight in the power of killing—beast or man. Granger, on the other hand, kills the bison carefully, knowing what they mean to the Indians, food for their stomachs, covering for their teepees, for their clothes to keep them warm in winter, for their mocassins and many other uses.

The two men fall out, a gradual process. Ultimately, however, it amounts to open warfare over the affections of an Indian girl played by Debra Paget.

BUT THE DRAMA OF "The Last Hunt" reaches its height watching the hunters shoot into the buffalo stands. These action shots, no doubt, were actual scenes taken during the time park authorities kill the beasts in the interests of conservation—maintaining the balance of nature. The bleached bones littering the ground are grim reminder of how the plains must have looked in bygone days.

Sir Winston Home From Riviera Holiday

LONDON (AP)—Sir Winston Churchill came home Tuesday looking fit after a winter holiday on the French Riviera. He went directly from his plane to a waiting car and had nothing to say to reporters.

Bonny Prince Charlie 'Best-Dressed Man'

LONDON (AP)—An authority on style Tuesday night named seven-year-old Prince Charles as the best-dressed man in the world, closely challenged by Adlai Stevenson, evangelist Billy Graham and Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin.

Prime Minister Eden, an old title holder, with great staying power, failed to make the grade. So did President Eisenhower and Communist party boss Nikita Khrushchev.

The list was compiled by John Taylor, editor of Tailor and Cutter, the stylish man's fashion guide. Others listed were Marshal Tito, British Gen. Sir Fredrick Browning, Fred Astaire, Charlie Chaplin, international playboy Porfirio Rubirosa and Sir William Darling, a member of Parliament.

The young heir to the throne built up points by introducing the deerstalker hat, the miniature bow tie and the double-breasted cardigan as fashions for small fry.

Taylor admired Stevenson's Ivy League style but said he should be warned about dressing to well—"any appearance other than the slightly vulgar

70 Persons Homeless After Ontario Fire

CORNWALL, Ont. (BUP)—More than 70 persons were homeless today after flames destroyed seven houses and damaged several others.

Fire Chief Cory Moore said there were no casualties from the three-hour blaze, believed to have been started from an exploding oil drum. The loss was expected to total nearly $100,000.

Ont. Youth Charged With Killing Mother

TORONTO (CP)—Joseph Kelman Szabo, 17, bicycled 1 1/2 miles from his home to a suburban Etobicoke police station Tuesday, shortly before the body of his mother was found sprawled under a bench of geraniums.

Several hours later he was charged with murder in the slaying of Mrs. Elizabeth Szabo. Police said she was killed by two .22-calibre bullets in the head.

The boy's father, John, who was away picking up a load of fertilizer for the six-acre market farm, was questioned by police and released two hours later.

Dr. G. L. Blanchette said it appeared someone had used a shovel to cover up some of the blood in the greenhouse. The woman's face was blood-smeared and beyond recognition.

Police, who dug up plant boxes in a search for empty cartridges, said there was no sign of a struggle. A .22-calibre rifle and shovel were seized by police.

The woman's body was found lying face up in the greenhouse full of marigolds and pansies ready for sale to nurseries. The family's black cat was in the building with the body.

Police said they were baffled as to a motive.

"There does not appear to be the slightest reason for the shooting and there wasn't any argument leading up to the woman's death," a detective said.

Later in the day the youth refused to see his brother John, 20, when John tried to visit him in a police station cell.

W. E. MacDonald, a lawyer retained to defend the youth, said he had been having difficulty with school work this year.

"His studies had become a mental burden which may have affected his mind," he said.

The youth's school principal said he is an "excellent" student.

RCMP Cut Off From Cheap Booze

HALIFAX (CP)—Premier Hicks told the legislature Tuesday night he has ordered the Nova Scotia liquor commission to discontinue sales of special brands of liquor to the RCMP at cut-rate prices.

Mr. Hicks, commission chairman, said he had learned the RCMP was purchasing "certain brands, none of which was listed in the ordinary course of commission business," for prices on which the markup was "substantially less" than it would be if the brands were sold in commission stores.

The practice dates back to 1953 and is "only used for entertainments arranged under the auspices of the RCMP commissioner," he said.

New Way Relieves Arthritic, Rheumatic Pain Without Pills

Greaseless, odorless cream penetrates deep, speeds flow of fresh, rich blood into sore areas, helps drive away pain-causing pressure.

Toronto, Ont. (Special)—Science has now developed an odorless, greaseless cream that acts in a new way to bring hours and hours of relief from pains of arthritis and rheumatism—without the need of taking pills and other medicines that may upset the system.

Rubbed gently into painful areas, this cream penetrates so deep it actually vanishes into the skin. It speeds the flow of fresh, rich blood into sore muscles, joints. Actually helps drive away pain-causing pressure and congestion. Used by doctors in England, France and the U.S.A., this remarkable cream is now available without prescription at drug stores everywhere. Ask for InfraRUB. Only $1.39 a large tube. InfraRUB is guaranteed to give comforting relief from arthritis-rheumatism pains or your money back. "Reg. T.M."

Alcan Output Boosted 30%

Third Aluminum Potline Added to Giant B.C. Smelter

By NORMAN CRIBBENS
Times Business Editor

KITIMAT—A third furnace line went into production today at Alcan's aluminum smelter adding 30,000 tons of primary metal to the supply line and boosting the total capacity 30 per cent to 120,000 tons. It caused little excitement among Alcan's 8,000 workers accustomed as they are to new developments in this fast-growing project. But company officials see the new line as an important milestone along the way to their final target of 550,000 tons.

Business editors from the larger British Columbia newspapers were given a preview Tuesday as potline III went into production pouring out top-grade aluminum—99.5 per cent pure.

A potline is a group of three buildings where molten aluminum is poured from crucibles and cast into ingots. Fourth and fifth lines are scheduled for operation by the end of 1956, to send total capacity to 180,000 tons.

HALFWAY MARK

"We plan to add another 60,000 tons in 1956 and 60,000 tons in 1957," said works manager A. C. Turney. "That will bring us more than half way to the final target of 550,000 tons."

NEW YORK

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market advanced today in a rebound of moderate size from Tuesday's sharp fall. The rise extended from 1 to around 3 points in a number of major divisions. Losses were minor.

BOAT BURNS

Thomas Swim Delayed

TACOMA, Wash. (AP)—Evald Anderson, Tacoma contractor, escaped with minor injuries Wednesday when his yacht, the Bridges, exploded and burned at the Tacoma Yacht Club.

The Bert Thomas party, getting ready to leave for Seattle where Thomas was to start his Seattle-Tacoma swim try, pulled neighboring boats from their stalls and saved thousands of dollars worth of equipment.

The Anderson boat, a 50-plus foot cruiser with a value estimated at $60,000, was a complete loss, yacht club officials said.

According to eye-witnesses, Anderson was on his boat, attempting to start it when there was a "terrific" explosion. He was able to make his way off the boat.

Thomas, Mrs. Thomas and his crew immediately began pulling out boats with the Thomas boat.

Dr. Franz Hoskins, who received a slight cut, ordered Thomas not to swim for at least 20 hours, because of the exertion caused by the rescue operation. Thomas was shaken up.

Reds Attack South Korea Garrison

SEOUL (Reuters)—The United Nations command today charged the Communists in Korea with "wantonly attacking" a South Korean defence post along the demarcation line.

The charge was made after South Korea earlier today said Communist troops, believed to be Chinese, crossed the armistice line Tuesday to attack the post 50 miles north of Seoul.

The 40-minute exchange of fire was the third attack of its kind in the area within 10 days, a South Korean spokesman said. He said there were no casualties.

In Tokyo, a spokesman for the United States Far East command said a confidential report on the incident had been received from the UN section of the military armistice commission which "pretty much" confirmed details of the clash given by the South Korean government.

Previous allegations of violation of the armistice which ended the Korean War have mainly concerned alleged intrusions by planes over the territories of North and South Korea.

The Communist North was divided from the non-Communist South under the armistice agreement, and a demilitarized zone was established. Both sides have since complained of hostile incidents in this zone.

4 Crewmen Die in Two RCAF Crashes

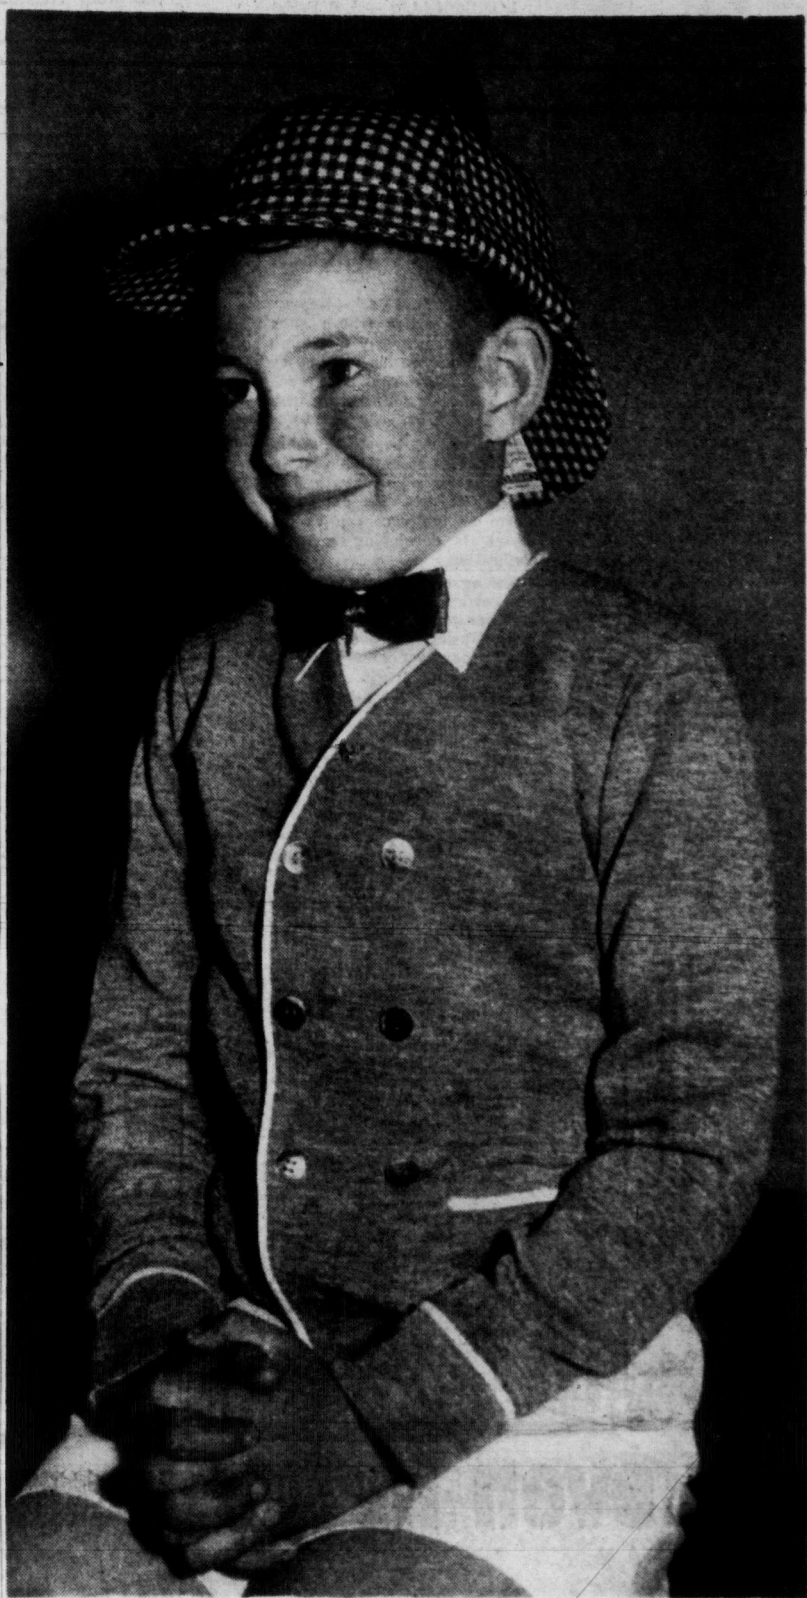

LACHINE, Que. (BUP)—An RCAF four-crewman Otter amphibious plane crashed near the Goose Bay, Labrador, air base Tuesday, killing its crew of three airmen, air transport command headquarters announced here today.

Killed were the pilot, FO R. C. Reid, 27, Dartmouth, N.S., whose widow and one son live at Goose Bay; the co-pilot, FO J. M. Ketcheson, 38, Trenton, Ont., whose widow and three children live at Goose Bay; and the crewman, LAC F. E. Solazza, 21, Sydney, N.S., who was not married.

COALHURST, Alta. (CP)—Flight Cadet Gordon Eugene Baedak was killed Tuesday when his Harvard training plane crashed near here. He was the only occupant in the two-seat aircraft.

Baedak was based at the RCAF station in Claresholm, 43 miles northwest of here. His family lives in New Westminster, B.C.

FASHION FOR BEST-DRESSED MEN

This is the small-fry wear which has won for Prince Charles the title of the "world's best-dressed man"—deer-stalker cap, miniature bow tie, double-breasted cardigan. Above, Kevin Dun-

37½-MILE MUDHOLE BOGS ALBERTA CARS

CORONATION, Alta. (CP)—Travellers reported today that all motor traffic has been stopped by a sea of mud for 37½ miles on the southeastern end of Highway No. 12, a main road in this district 200 miles southeast of Edmonton.

As the district's record snowfall melted forming miniature lakes, the 37½-mile stretch became a bog, said residents who described the road as a "mudhole."

No Ambition to Lead Party Nationally, Says Bennett

VANCOUVER (CP)—Premier Bennett reiterated Tuesday that he has no ambition to lead the Social Credit party federally.

He made the comment in an interview here after national leader Solon Low indicated in Ottawa that he might resign because of ill health.

"My job is with British Columbia," Premier Bennett said. "We have just started on a big development program and I'm planning to stay here to help carry it out."

The premier said at the Social

Credit convention in Vancouver last fall that he had no federal ambitions. At that time Mr. Low said he would not stand in the way if the people want B.C.'s premier as leader.

Press for Renewal Of Wheat Pact

WASHINGTON (CP)—A conference of farm leaders from Canada, the United States and Mexico Tuesday adopted a resolution urging renewal of the International Wheat Agreement.

Canadian delegates to the two-day conference, a meeting of the North American members of the International Federation of Agricultural Producers, generally were optimistic that the agreement will be renewed.

Hospital Helicopter

B.C. Flood Threat At Serious Stage

Heavy Snow Pack Poses Danger
Says Lands Minister Williston

A definite flood potential exists throughout British Columbia, Lands and Forests Minister Ray Williston announced today.

Mr. Williston made the disclosure in releasing snow pack figures taken on snow courses in the provinces mountain ranges.

"A very heavy accumulation of snow has developed for the entire province," he said.

The minister said the snow pack "is almost equivalent to that in 1954, which was the highest on record."

He said "it is noted that the flood potential indicated in 1954 did not develop, as favorable weather conditions dissipated the snow without real trouble."

"A slow steady melt without prevailing high temperatures similar to those experienced in 1948 could again release the snow melt without serious flooding along the principal rivers."

He said "there could be flooding of a local nature scattered over the whole province, caused by high temperature or rainfall of a local nature accelerating the snow melt."

"The Okanagan and Similkameen valleys show a high potential in this regard," said Mr. Williston.

He summed up the situation in these words: "Physically, there is a definite flood potential, with weather the controlling factor."

The snow report was taken April 1.

Each year, the April 1 report is considered the weather vane, in which predictions of the flood potential are hazarded by water rights branch experts.

HIGHER
Branch records show the snow pack on the main stem of the Columbia River above Castlegar at 126 per cent of normal, and 50 per cent higher than in 1955.

The main watershed of the Fraser River, above Hope, shows a water content of 124 per cent of normal, and 40 per cent over that of last year.

Vancouver Island watersheds are down slightly from last year, but are still at 164 per cent of normal.

East Kootenay above Creston shows a snow pack of 133 per cent of normal, the West Kootenay, between Creston and Castlegar, 139 per cent of normal, East Okanagan watershed 125 per cent of normal; West Okanagan 124 per cent of normal.

The Similkameen shows 144 per cent of normal, the North Thompson 155 per cent of normal, coastal watersheds 133 per cent of normal and the Skagit River system 156 of normal.

A motorist found the bag in the circular park in front of the administration building at the Edmonton airport.

The robbery, second largest in Edmonton's history, was from a van delivering the new bills to the main branch of the Royal Bank.

In 1919, $50,000 in cash disappeared from the Edmonton post office and the case never was solved.

Police Find Empty Bag In Big Theft

EDMONTON (CP)—Police reported today they have found the canvas bag in which $44,300 in new bills was stolen Monday from a CNR van in downtown Edmonton.

The bag, first tangible piece of evidence in the theft, was being given a routine check but city detectives and CNR investigators said it indicated little.

A motorist found the bag in the circular park in front of the administration building at the Edmonton airport.

The robbery, second largest in Edmonton's history, was from a van delivering the new bills to the main branch of the Royal Bank.

In 1919, $50,000 in cash disappeared from the Edmonton post office and the case never was solved.

Cole Cancels Concerts

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—Nat King Cole, who was attacked on the stage by a group of white men during a concert here Tuesday night, today canceled scheduled appearances in three other southern cities.

Outbursts by Arabs Threaten On Moslem Religious Holiday

ALGIERS (UP)—French security officials in Algeria doubled their vigilance today against the threat of Arab outbursts during the Moslem observance of Ramadan, a fasting period which begins tomorrow.

In the alleyways of the Casbah, native merchants shut up shop in response to mysterious orders from the murderous anti-French underground.

The hit-and-run guerrilla war in Algeria was touched off by a massacre on All Saints' Day—Nov. 1, 1954, and later native outbursts often have coincided with Moslem or Christian holidays.

Algiers was tense today, but

Weak U.S. Policy Blamed for Crisis

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Adlai Stevenson charged today that Eisenhower administration policy in the Middle East has brought the United States to the brink of war.

He urged that the U.S. assist Israel with arms to prevent aggression.

The Democratic presidential hopeful declared in a speech that the administration's latest statement of policy "to oppose aggression in the Middle East within constitutional means" was "very disappointing."

The administration pledge is

UN Peace Envoy Pleads With Nasser

CAIRO (UP)—UN secretary-general Dag Hammarskjold pleaded today with Egyptian Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser for peace in the Holy Land.

They met in Nasser's office to the wailing of an air raid siren test and against a background of new Israeli charges of "acts of terror" in Israel during the night.

The meeting lasted 75 minutes and Hammarskjold told reporters he would confer again with Nasser before leaving Cairo.

Asked to comment on a report he had submitted a six-point compromise plan to Nasser to settle the crisis, he said the report was "very imaginative."

The Arab ring around Israel was tightened Tuesday when Syria and Jordan agreed to co-ordinate their frontier forces and to regard an Israeli attack on one as an attack on both.

Hammarskjold flew to Cairo with Canadian Maj.-Gen. Edson L. M. Burns, chief of the UN armistice supervisory commission, who asked Nasser on Sunday to halt commando attacks on Israel or face being branded an aggressor.

LONDON (UP)—Britain hinted cautiously today that it might "go it alone" if an emergency should require military action in the strategic Middle East.

The hint came as press dispatches from Washington reported American "disengagement" from the 1950 three-power declaration on the Middle East by Britain, France and the United States.

The foreign office at once reaffirmed that Britain continues to stand by the tripartite declaration with its provisions for "action within and without the United Nations" to maintain stability in the explosive region.

In the House of Commons last month Foreign Secretary C. I. Lloyd pledged Britain would honor "the obligations laid down in the tripartite declaration."

Mayor's Wife Dies
NANAIMO (CP)—The wife of Mayor Earle Westwood died in Nanaimo hospital this forenoon after a 10-day illness.

OTTAWA (CP)—The government will not admit known Communists to Canada either as immigrants or visitors, Immigration Minister Pickersgill said in the Commons today. Nor will it issue visitors' visas to Russian citizens coming to Canada under the auspices of "Communist or Communist-front organizations."

He said U.S. baritone Paul Robeson has been denied entry for a proposed concert tour because he is "a known, and I believe a professed, Communist."

Replying to questions, Mr. Pickersgill made it plain his ruling would bar five Russian women whose proposed tour of Canada has been planned by Canadian Congress of Women. They have not yet asked for an entry visa, he reported.

KNOW YOUR TEACHER

In the belief that parents of children attending schools in the Greater Victoria area are interested in knowing about personalities of the teachers who educate them, The Times continues a series on "Know Your Teacher." The article will appear three times a week. The Teachers' Association is co-operating.

One of seven teachers on the staff of the new Macaulay School in Esquimalt, Miss Mary Kusnir, 309 Belleville, teaches 38 grade one pupils, most of whom are Esquimalt garrison children. It is the Fernie girl's first teaching assignment in Victoria, although she lived in the city two years while attending Victoria Normal School.

This personable young teacher prefers to instruct younger children because she finds them easy and pleasant to work with.

She started teaching in her home town in the 1954-55 term, when she was given a class of grade one and two children. Miss Kusnir has been teaching here since last September.

Besides regular class duties, she is in charge of audio-visual aids in the school, which has a total enrolment of about 240. The books, movies and film strips requested for showing in the school, and takes care of models, charts and other visual aids to instruction.

Parts of her summer holidays

are taken up with further studies to improve her teaching qualifications, and in her spare time she reads teacher text-books, crochets and knits.

Manitoba Socred Quits Over Brewery Gifts

WINNIPEG (CP)—The recent disclosure that Manitoba breweries contributed $500 to the Social Credit party between 1951 and 1955 prompted William L. Bullmore, Social Credit member of the legislature for Dauphin, to resign from the party Tuesday.

Mr. Bullmore said outside the House that the contributions issue was the "straw that broke the camel's back."

RAPE JURY DISAGREES

VANCOUVER — A second jury disagreement in the trial of James Timothy Boulter, 17, on a charge of raping a 16-year-old girl was reported in assize court Tuesday.

Mr. Justice A. M. Manson remanded Boulter on bail until it is decided whether he will be tried a third time.

D. A. Thompson, spokesman for Manitoba breweries, said in a letter that neither Mr. Bullmore nor his agent received any of the $500. Figures released last Friday showed that the breweries paid $27,800 to political parties during the five-year period.

In his announcement Tuesday Mr. Bullmore said he decided to resign "in fairness to the Social Credit League of Manitoba, in fairness to the residents of my constituency and in fairness to myself."

The 43-year-old member said he would continue to sit as an independent. His resignation leaves Gilbert Hutton, member for Minnedosa, as the only Social Credit member in the 57-seat House.

Dr. Wright New President Extension Body

Dr. K. O. Wright of Dominion Astrophysical Observatory is the new president of Victoria branch of the University Extension Association.

Vice-president is Miss Eleanor Piggott, and honorary secretary-treasurer Mrs. E. E. Livesey.

Guest speaker at the annual meeting was Dr. F. H. Soward, director of international studies at University of British Columbia, who said Russian propaganda during the past year has been more successful than the "muddle-headed Eden-Dulles approach."

His topic was "The International Outlook," compiled from a study of the U.S., Britain, France and Russia in Asia, Europe and the mid-East during 1955.

UNCHANGED

Although the Russian bear is now smiling, he said, his basic nature has not changed.

Russian leaders have conducted a subtle, psychological "smiling offensive" against the west since Stalin died, but world domination is still the Soviet aim.

Arms reduction may be achieved, he said, through introduction of President Eisenhower's "blue sky" arms inspection approach.

Branch executive members are: J. Alton, Dr. H. L. Campbell, Dr. C. B. Conway, H. E. Farquhar, C. A. Gibbard, W. G. Hamilton, Dr. R. M. Lane, John Lort, R. G. McKee, H. G. McWilliams, Miss Lola B. Maxwell, H. J. Sceats, J. T. Stott, Dr. J. A. Taylor and Dr. R. T. Wallace.

Moscow Reveals Death

LONDON (AP)—Pavel Alexandrovich Yudin, Soviet minister of the construction materials industry, died Tuesday in Moscow. He was 53. Cause of death was not given in a Moscow radio announcement. The broadcast described him as "one of the outstanding organizers of Soviet building."

LEUKEMIA TAKES SECOND TWIN

Two-year-old Kathleen Jo Van Lopik, left, of Grand Rapids, Mich., joined her twin sister, Eileen, in death Tuesday. The tiny, bright-eyed girls were victims of leukemia in what doctors called a 1,000,000-to-1 medical rarity. Eileen died six weeks ago. The young parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Van Lopik said today they "can't help wondering" if their unborn child will suffer the same fate.

Four Homeless After Fire Razes Douk Community House

NELSON—Two elderly couples were left homeless Tuesday when fire destroyed one of the Doukhobor community houses at Brilliant, B.C., 15 miles west of here.

RCMP said one person was inside the building, built to house 60 persons, but he escaped uninjured.

Only a few belongings of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Lazoroff and Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Pictin were saved. Cause of the blaze in the 50-year-old structure was not immediately known.

NUKUALOFA, Tonga (Reuters)—The tiny monarchy of Tonga—a group of picturesque, palm-fringed islands in the Pacific—will have its own order of chivalry. Queen Salote, ruler of the British protectorate, has approved creation of a Tongan star in three classes to be awarded for services to the kingdom.

J. B. Priestley To Visit Canada; Plans Debates

LONDON (AP)—J. B. Priestley, author and perpetual rebel, flies to Canada this week to take part in public debates in five cities. It will be his first comprehensive visit in 25 years.

"I am extremely interested in Canada's development and in what is happening in Canadian life," he told a reporter. "That is the chief reason I have agreed to make this very strenuous trip."

The 62-year-old Yorkshireman, a prolific writer whose book titles take up nearly a column in reference works, says every writer should always be a rebel. He has closely followed his own advice.

In a recent book, "Journey Down a Rainbow," written in collaboration with his wife Jacquetta Hawkes, he expressed alarm at the way the United States is developing a mass civilization.

Among other things, he says the restlessness of the Americans has made them the "tuneless gypsies of the machine age," probably unafraid of anything except silence.

SAYS NOT ANTI-AMERICAN

The book resulted in some complaints that Priestley is anti-American. He denied this in a magazine article, saying it is because he loves the country and its people that he dares to find fault.

$5 LEGAL FEE APPROVED BY VANCOUVER LAWYERS

VANCOUVER—A plan to provide legal advice for a fixed $5 fee was approved in principle by 160 Vancouver lawyers meeting here Tuesday. Lawyer Hugo Ray said similar plans have had considerable success in the United States.

A half-hour consultation would be assured for a $5 fee.

Manslaughter Verdict in Murder Trial

NEW WESTMINSTER — James Guthrie, 64, was found guilty Tuesday of manslaughter in the stabbing death last November 29 of Mrs. Helen Cowan, 72.

Guthrie was charged with murder after the elderly woman's body was found under her bed in her White Rock, B.C., home. The jury, however, found him guilty on the lesser charge.

Guthrie, boarding at the Cowan home at the time the woman died, has been remanded to a later date for sentence.

He told the court Mrs. Cowan day. More than two each hour.

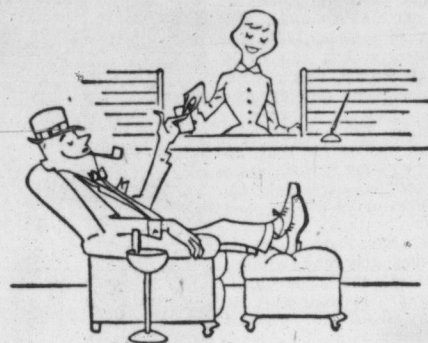

came at him waving a knife and screaming. He grappled with her and they fell over a chair, he said.

Alberta Grants Aid To London-Bound VCs

EDMONTON (CP)—Premier Manning announced Tuesday that the provincial government will provide $200 in expense money to Alberta Victoria Cross winners attending the June 26 Victoria Cross centennial celebration in London.

Premier Manning said the money will be for "incidental expenses" in addition to travelling expenses which are to be paid by the federal government.

EGYPT ENDS ISRAEL RAIDS

Nasser Calls Back
Commando Bands
Attacking Holy Land

CAIRO, Egypt (UP)—Egypt announced today, in the midst of its peace-in-the-Middle East negotiations with United Nations Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld, that it was withdrawing its Fedayeen suicide squads from Israel.

A Cairo radio broadcast said the Fedayeen, which had been raiding deep inside Israel, had completed their mission of "revenge" for "Israel attacks on Gaza citizens."

The announcement came only hours after Hammarskjöld's first meeting with Egyptian Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser for "crucial talks."

The radio announcement said 300 Fedayeen were sent across the Gaza frontier and completed 50 attacks.

Ten of the Fedayeen were killed, the announcement said. (Israel claimed that her forces killed 11 of the raiders.)

RETALIATION

Egypt said the raids were in retaliation for Israeli attacks which killed more than 50 civilians in villages along the bloody Gaza strip.

The Fedayeen raids had increased fears that general war was about to break out in the Middle East and had brought a warning from UN truce commander Gen. E. L. M. Burns that Egypt was running the risk of having herself branded an aggressor.

Hammarskjöld and Nasser met in the latter's office to the wailing of an air raid test and against a background of new Israeli charges of "acts of terror" in Israel during the night. The meeting lasted 75 minutes and Hammarskjöld told reporters he would confer again with Nasser before leaving Cairo.

Asked to comment on a report he had submitted a six-point compromise plan to Nasser to settle the crisis, he said the report was "very imaginative."

He said nothing more. Hammarskjöld flew to Cairo with Canadian Maj.-Gen. Edson L. M. Burns, chief of the UN armistice supervisory commission, who asked Nasser on Sunday to halt commando attacks on Israel or face being branded an aggressor.

No Deals
With Russ
Says Eden

LONDON (UP)—Sir Anthony Eden will reject any Soviet move for formal "friendship" agreements or other commitments during the Bulgarian-Khrushchev visit next week, authoritative sources said today.

The British answer to any such proposals will be "deeds first," they said. Especially will this be so if Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev proposes another summit conference.

The informal British agenda for the six meetings Eden will have with the Russians during their 10-day visit was disclosed today following release of the final schedule for their trip. They arrive one week from today.

Release of the trip schedule was a sharp departure from the security consciousness of the British in the case of previous Russian visitors.

Authoritative sources said Eden decided to use the two-power "summit" talks only to sound out Russian intentions. They said he intends to abandon polite diplomacy and do "plain talking" on what the new Soviet anti-Stalin policy will mean to the west and on what Moscow's designs are in the Middle East.

He also will ask some blunt questions on the thorny problems of German unification, East-West contacts and the Far East—problems that were left up in the air at the July summit conference and plunged into discouragement at the ensuing Big Four foreign ministers conference last fall.

ON THE BRINK OF WAR

Stevenson Demands
U.S. Arm Israel

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Adlai Stevenson charged today that Eisenhower administration policy in the Middle East has brought the United States to the brink of war.

He urged that the U.S. assist Israel with arms to prevent aggression.

The Democratic presidential hopeful declared in a speech that the administration's latest statement of policy "to oppose aggression in the Middle East within constitutional means" was "very disappointing."

The administration pledge is sued earlier this week said the United States would support and assist any national attacked there.

"It is not enough to pledge support to Israel if subjected to aggression," Stevenson said. "We must make it emphatically clear that we will not tolerate aggression. And we should assist Israel with arms to prevent aggression."

Algerian Outbursts
Create New Tension

ALGIERS (UP)—French security officials in Algeria doubled their vigilance today against the threat of Arab outbursts during the Moslem observance of Ramadan, a fasting period which begins tomorrow.

In the alleyways of the Casbah, native merchants shut up shop in response to mysterious orders from the murderous anti-French underground.

The hit-and-run guerrilla war in Algeria was touched off by a massacre on All Saints' Day—Nov. 1, 1954, and later native outbreaks often have coincided with Moslem or Christian holidays.

Algerians were tense today, but troops patrolling the city reported no violence. Elsewhere in Algeria, at least 26 Arabs were killed yesterday. No French casualties were reported.

B.C. Flood Threat
At Serious Stage

Heavy Snow Pack Poses Danger
Says Lands Minister Williston

A definite flood potential exists throughout British Columbia, Lands and Forests Minister Ray Williston announced today.

Mr. Williston made the disclosure in releasing snow pack figures taken on snow courses in the provinces mountain ranges.

"A very heavy accumulation of snow has developed for the entire province," he said.

The minister said the snow pack "is almost equivalent to that in 1954, which was the highest on record."

He said "it is noted that the flood potential indicated in 1954 did not develop, as favorable weather conditions dissipated the snow without real trouble."

"A slow steady melt without prevailing high temperatures similar to those experienced in 1948 could again release the snow melt without serious flooding along the principal rivers."

LOCAL FLOODING

"There could be flooding of a local nature scattered over the whole province, caused by high temperature or rainfall of a local nature accelerating the snow melt."

"The Okanagan and Similkameen valleys show a high potential in this regard," said Mr. Williston.

He summed up the situation in these words:

"Physically, there is a definite flood potential, with weather the controlling factor."

The snow report was taken April 1.

Each year, the April 1 report is considered the weathervane in which predictions of the flood potential are hazarded by water rights branch experts.

Branch records show the snow pack on the main stem of the Columbia River above Castlegar at 126 per cent of normal, and 50 per cent higher than in 1955.

The main watershed of the Fraser River, above Hope, shows a water content of 124

Thomas
Swim
Delayed

TACOMA, Wash. (AP)—Evald Anderson, Tacoma contractor, escaped with minor injuries Wednesday when his yacht, the Bridges, exploded and burned at the Tacoma Yacht Club.

The Bert Thomas party, getting ready to leave for Seattle where Thomas was to start his Seattle-Tacoma swim try, pulled neighboring boats from their stalls and saved thousands of dollars worth of equipment.

The Anderson boat, a 50-plus foot cruiser with a value estimated at $60,000, was a complete loss, yacht club officials said.

According to eye-witnesses, Anderson was on his boat, attempting to start it when there was a "terrific" explosion. He was able to make his way off the boat.

Thomas, Mrs. Thomas and his crew immediately began pulling out boats with the Thomas boat.

Dr. Franz Hoskins, who received a slight cut, ordered Thomas not to swim for at least 20 hours, because of the exertion caused by the rescue operation. Thomas was shaken up.

Mayor's Wife
Succumbs
At Nanaimo

NANAIMO (CP)—Mrs. Earle C. Westwood, 46, wife of Nanaimo's mayor, died in hospital here shortly before noon today.

Mrs. Westwood, formerly Dorothy Verna Humphrey, had been in hospital for about two weeks where she was being treated for an embolism. Her condition was reported as good until early today.

Mr. and Mrs. Westwood were married 19 years ago. She is survived by her husband, two children, her mother, two sisters and a brother.

Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

Cole Cancels Concerts

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—Nat King Cole, who was attacked on the stage by a crowd of white men during a concert here Tuesday night, today canceled scheduled appearances in three other southern cities.

KNOW YOUR TEACHER

In the belief that parents of children attending schools in the Greater Victoria area are interested in knowing about personalities of the teachers who educate them, the Times continues a series on "Know Your Teacher." The article will appear three times a week. The Teachers' Association is co-operating.

One of seven teachers on the staff of the new Macaulay School in Esquimalt, Miss Mary Kusnir, 309 Belleville, teaches 38 grade one pupils, most of whom are Esquimalt garrison children. It is the Fernie girl's first teaching assignment in Victoria, although she lived in the city two years while attending Victoria Normal School.

This personable young teacher prefers to instruct younger children because she finds them easy and pleasant to work with. She started teaching in her home town in the 1954-55 term, when she was given a class of grade one and two children. Miss Kusnir has been teaching here since last September.

Besides regular class duties, she is in charge of audio-visual aids in the school, which has a total enrolment of about 240. The books, movies and film strips requested for showing in the school, and takes care of models, charts and other visual aids to instruction.

Parts of her summer holidays

are taken up with further studies to improve her teaching qualifications, and in her spare time she reads teacher text-books, crochets and knits.

Manitoba Socred Quits Over Brewery Gifts

WINNIPEG (CP)—The recent disclosure that Manitoba breweries contributed $500 to the Social Credit party between 1951 and 1955 prompted William L. Bullmore, Social Credit member of the legislature for Dauphin, to resign from the party Tuesday.

Mr. Bullmore said outside the House that the contributions issue was the "straw that broke the camel's back."

RAPE JURY DISAGREES

VANCOUVER — A second jury disagreement in the trial of James Timothy Boulter, 17, on a charge of raping a 16-year-old girl was reported in assize court Tuesday.

Mr. Justice A. M. Manson remanded Boulter on bail until it is decided whether he will be tried a third time.

D. A. Thompson, spokesman for Manitoba breweries, said in a letter that neither Mr. Bullmore nor his agent received any of the $500. Figures released last Friday showed that the breweries paid $27,800 to political parties during the five-year period.

In his announcement Tuesday Mr. Bullmore said he decided to resign "in fairness to the Social Credit League of Manitoba, in fairness to the residents of my constituency and in fairness to myself."

The 43-year-old member said he would continue to sit as an independent. His resignation leaves Gilbert Hutton, member for Minnedosa, as the only Social Credit member in the 57-seat House.

Dr. Wright New President Extension Body

Dr. K. O. Wright of Dominion Astrophysical Observatory is the new president of Victoria branch of the University Extension Association.

Vice-president is Miss Eleanor Piggott, and honorary secretary-treasurer Mrs. E. E. Livesey.

Guest speaker at the annual meeting was Dr. F. H. Soward, director of international studies at University of British Columbia, who said Russian propaganda during the past year has been more successful than the "muddle-headed" Eden-Dulles approach.

His topic was "The International Outlook," compiled from a study of the U.S., Britain, France and Russia in Asia, Europe and the mid-East during 1955.

UNCHANGED

Although the Russian bear is now smiling, he said, his basic nature has not changed.

Russian leaders have conducted a subtle, psychological "smiling offensive" against the west since Stalin died, but world domination is still the Soviet aim.

Arms reduction may be achieved, he said, through introduction of President Eisenhower's "blue sky" arms inspection approach.

Branch executive members are:

J. Alton, Dr. H. L. Campbell, Dr. C. B. Conway, H. E. Farquhar, C. A. Gibbard, W. G. Hamilton, Dr. R. M. Lane, John Lort, R. G. McKee, H. G. McWilliams, Miss Lola B. Maxwell, H. J. Seatts, J. T. Stott, Dr. J. A. Taylor and Dr. R. T. Wallace.

Moscow Reveals Death

LONDON (AP)—Pavel Alexandrovich Yudin, Soviet minister of the construction materials industry, died Tuesday in Moscow. He was 53. Cause of death was not given in a Moscow radio announcement. The broadcast described him as "one of the outstanding organizers of Soviet building."

LEUKEMIA TAKES SECOND TWIN

Two-year-old Kathleen Jo Van Lopik, left, of Grand Rapids, Mich., joined her twin sister, Eileen, in death Tuesday. The tiny, bright-eyed girls were victims of leukemia in what doctors called a 1,000,000-to-1 medical rarity. Eileen died six weeks ago. The young parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Van Lopik said today they "can't help wondering" if their unborn child will suffer the same fate.

Four Homeless After Fire Razes Douk Community House

NELSON—Two elderly couples were left homeless Tuesday when fire destroyed one of the Doukhobor community houses at Brilliant, B.C., 15 miles west of here.

RCMP said one person was inside the building, built to house 60 persons, but he escaped uninjured.

Only a few belongings of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Lazaroff and Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Picin were saved.

Cause of the blaze in the 50-year-old structure was not immediately known.

NUKUALOFA, Tonga (Reuters)—The tiny monarchy of Tonga—a group of picturesque, palm-fringed islands in the Pacific—will have its own order of chivalry. Queen Salote, ruler of the British protectorate, has approved creation of a Tongan star in three classes to be awarded for services to the kingdom.

J. B. Priestley To Visit Canada; Plans Debates

LONDON (AP)—J. B. Priestley, author and perpetual rebel, comes to Canada this week to take part in public debates in five cities. It will be his first comprehensive visit in 25 years.

"I am extremely interested in Canada's development and in what is happening in Canadian life," he told a reporter. "That is the chief reason I have agreed to make this very strenuous trip."

The 62-year-old Yorkshireman, a prolific writer whose book titles take up nearly a column in reference works, says every writer should always be a rebel. He has closely followed his own advice.

In a recent book, "Journey Down a Rainbow," written in collaboration with his wife Jacquetta Hawkes, he expressed alarm at the way the United States is developing a mass civilization.

Among other things, he says the restlessness of the Americans has made them the "tuneless gypsies of the machine age," probably unaware of anything except silence.

SAYS NOT ANTI-AMERICAN The book resulted in some complaints that Priestley is anti-American. He denied this in a magazine article, saying it is because he loves the country and its people that he dares to find fault.

$5 LEGAL FEE APPROVED BY VANCOUVER LAWYERS

VANCOUVER—A plan to provide legal advice for a fixed $5 fee was approved in principle by 160 Vancouver lawyers meeting here Tuesday. Lawyer Hugo Ray said similar plans have had considerable success in the United States. A half-hour consultation would be assured for a $5 fee.

Manslaughter Verdict in Murder Trial

NEW WESTMINSTER—James Guthrie, 64, was found guilty Tuesday of manslaughter in the stabbing death last November 29 of Mrs. Helen Cowan, 72.

Guthrie was charged with murder after the elderly woman's body was found under her bed in her White Rock, B.C., home. The jury, however, found him guilty on the lesser charge.

Guthrie, boarding at the Cowan home at the time the woman died, has been remanded to a later date for sentence.

He told the court Mrs. Cowan

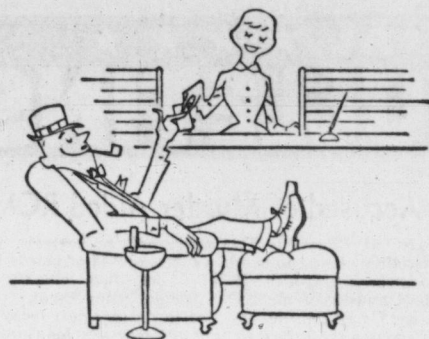

came at him waving a knife and screaming. He grappled with her and they fell over a chair, he said.

Alberta Grants Aid To London-Bound VCs

EDMONTON (CP)—Premier Manning announced Tuesday that the provincial government will provide $200 in expense money to Alberta Victoria Cross winners attending the June 26 Victoria Cross centennial celebration in London.

Premier Manning said the money will be for "incidental expenses" in addition to traveling expenses which are to be paid by the federal government.

Britain Hints Would Fight Alone

LONDON (UP)—Britain hinted cautiously today that it might "go it alone" if an emergency should require military action in the strategic Middle East.

The hint came as press dispatches from Washington reported American "disengagement" from the 1950 three-power declaration on the Middle East by Britain, France and the United States.

The foreign office at once reaffirmed that Britain continues to stand by the tripartite declaration with its provisions for "action within and without the United Nations" to maintain stability in the explosive region.

In the House of Commons last month Foreign Secretary Sir Evelyn Lloyd pledged Britain would honor "the obligations laid down in the tripartite declaration."

Reds Attack South Korea Garrison

SEOUL (Reuters)—The United Nations command today charged the Communists in Korea with "wantonly attacking" a South Korean defence post along the demarcation line.

The charge was made after South Korea earlier today said Communist troops, believed to be Chinese, crossed the armistice line Tuesday to attack the post 50 miles north of Seoul.

The 40-minute exchange of fire was the third attack of its kind in the area within 10 days, a South Korean spokesman said. He said there were no casualties.

In Tokyo, a spokesman for the United States Far East command said a confidential report on the incident had been received from the UN section of the military armistice commission which "pretty much" confirmed details of the clash given by the South Korean government.

Previous allegations of violation of the armistice which ended the Korean War have mainly concerned alleged intrusions by planes over the territories of North and South Korea.

The Communist North was divided from the non-Communist South under the armistice agreement, and a demilitarized zone was established. Both sides have since complained of hostile incidents in this zone.

4 Crewmen Die in Two RCAF Crashes

LACHINE, Que. (BUP)—An RCAF four-crewman Otter amphibious plane crashed near the Goose Bay, Labrador, air base Tuesday, killing its crew of three airmen, air transport command headquarters announced here today.

Killed were the pilot, FO R. C. Reid, 27, Dartmouth, N.S., whose widow and one son live at Goose Bay; the co-pilot, FO J. M. Ketcheson, 38, Trenton, Ont., whose widow and three children live at Goose Bay; and the crewman, LAC F. E. Sollazzo, 21, Sydney, N.S., who was not married.

COALHURST, Alta. (CP)—Flight Cadet Gordon Eugene Baedak was killed Tuesday when his Harvard training plane crashed near here. He was the only occupant in the two-seat aircraft.

Baedak was based at the RCAF station in Claresholm, 43 miles northwest of here. His family lives in New Westminster, B.C.

The air force released the pilot's name today when it opened an investigation.

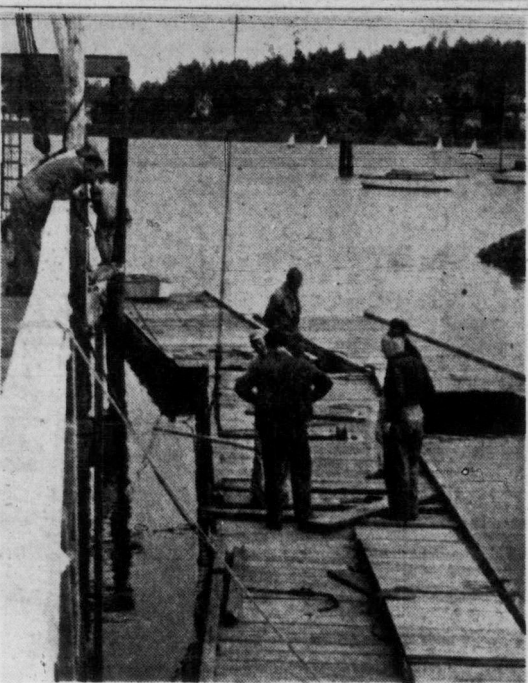

Chinese Execute Two Priests, Nun

VATICAN CITY (Reuters)—Two Chinese Roman Catholic priests and a religious sister were executed by Chinese Communists at Hanyang, in the Hupeh province of central China, the Fides News Agency of the Vatican's Congregation for the Propagation of the Faith said Tuesday.

The news agency said it was not known why fathers Paul Chang and John Gao and Sister Isabella had been sentenced to death, but there was a major anti-Church movement under way in Hupeh province.

Teapot Tempest Looms in Britain —Stringless Tea Bags on Way

LONDON (BUP)—A modern revolution is stirring up a tempest in British teapots.

The land of tea drinkers is in for a shock—North American-style tea bags are coming to England. Plans are brewing to fill English teapots with the quick way to afternoon tea.

The chairman of a British tea company, Tetley Ironside Tetley-Jones, told a news conference in London about the revolution. But he said the British version of the tea bag won't be like the North American kind that "looks like dead mice or something."

English tea bags will have better tea, he said, and the bags won't dangle from strings. Why the switch? Well, Tetley-Jones explained, tea bags make it easier to clean the pot.

One more question: Where did Tetley Ironside Tetley-Jones get his name? Said the Englishman, "My parents had no imagination when they named me."

Police Find Empty Bag In Big Theft

EDMONTON (CP)—Police reported today they have found the canvas bag in which $44,300 in new bills was stolen Monday from a CNR van in downtown Edmonton.

The bag, first tangible piece of evidence in the theft, was being given a routine check by city detectives and CNR investigators said it indicated little.

A motorist found the bag in the circular park in front of the administration building at the Edmonton airport.

The robbery, second largest in Edmonton's history, was from a van delivering the new bills to the main branch of the Royal Bank.

In 1919, $50,000 in cash disappeared from the Edmonton post office and the case never was solved.

Use Benefits Indians Told

CAPE MUDGE—Insufficient publicity among Indians has been given the new clause in the Workmen's Compensation Act which covers independent fishermen, Harold Roberts told the annual convention of the Native Brotherhood Tuesday.

Mr. Roberts, a representative of the Workmen's Compensation Board, said of the 1,280 applications for coverage under the clause received by the board only 188 were from Indians.

Mr. Roberts said protection under the new clause was not effective until an application was received and accepted.

Dr. R. C. Scott, a former missionary, urged strong support be given the Coqualeetza Fellowship, a non-sectarian, non-political organization of native people whose objective is to establish a native centre in Vancouver.

He asked that more Indians become members of the group.

Indians of the Ahousat band, now attending the 24th annual convention of the Native Brotherhood of B.C., here, raised money for the trip by staging an evening of war dances in the Canadian Legion Hall at Tofino.

There were 10 dances on the program, conducted by Earl George, master of ceremonies, and accompanied by a tomtom band.

A war canoe dance, with paddles waving, opened the program, and was followed by two youngsters in a ritual handed down through their families.

Five women took part in a dance given to the Ahousats at least 200 years ago by other tribes as a peace treaty following 15 years of war.

A war dance that used to be performed on sealing schooners, and that was given to the Ahousats by the Sitka tribe of Alaska, was re-enacted by two girls in full costume and feathers.

Luke Swan of Ahousat performed a song and dance he said he dreamed after the sinking of his boat 25 miles off shore, and his voyage to safety in a 10-foot canoe.

37½-MILE MUDHOLE BOGS ALBERTA CARS

CORONATION, Alta. (CP)—Travellers reported today that all motor traffic has been stopped by a sea of mud for 37½ miles on the southeastern end of Highway No. 12, a main road in this district 200 miles southeast of Edmonton.

As the district's record snowfall melted forming miniature lakes, the 37½-mile stretch became a bog, said residents who described the road as a "mudhole."

Two thunderbirds were carved on the bowl which weighs 108 ounces and is 14 inches in height. The trophy was made by George Bennett of Maurice Carmichael, silversmiths.

Boat Basin Proposal Forwarded to Ottawa

LADYSMITH—A proposal for the construction of a small-boat basin in Ladysmith harbor, which has been in preparation for more than a year, has now been forwarded to Ottawa, John MacNaughton, chairman of the industrial development committee of the Chamber of Commerce, reported to the chamber Monday.

With the proposal were sent copies of letters from Comox Logging & Railway Company and Canadian Collieries (Dunsmuir) Ltd., which stated that those companies would not object to the proposal; petitions signed by 41 full-time commercial fishermen endorsing the proposal, and an unsolicited resolution from the Thetis Island local of the fishermen's union, which also gave endorsement.

Location of the proposed boat basin is water lot 132, the site of an old shingle mill to the south of the Comox Logging & Railway Company booming ground. Completely sheltered at all times of year, the site would require only dredging to create a boat basin.

A portion of the water lot is now being used by the Comox Logging & Railway Company as part of its booming ground, and this portion would be retained by the company. This would leave about 14 acres for development as a boat basin.

While considerable dredging would be required to provide the depth of water necessary at all tides, the committee believes that the cost of this would be more than offset by the fact that there would be no need for an expensive breakwater.

Cobble Hill School Tenders To Be Called

DUNCAN—Tenders for the new $225,000 Cobble Hill junior high school likely will be called in the first week of May, it was announced at the regular meeting of Cowichan District 65 School Board.

Teachers of the district have approved salary increases granted by the board that will cost the district an additional $13,000 for the year.

About 60 per cent of the increase will go to teachers in the lower income brackets and the remainder to those in other wage levels.

The board decided to purchase the Margaret property on Alexander Road, in North Cowichan, as site for an elementary school to serve both the city and district. Trustees George Brownlee, Ross Marshall and Mrs. Isabel Tarlton

Press for Renewal Of Wheat Pact

WASHINGTON (CP)—A conference of farm leaders from Canada, the United States and Mexico Tuesday adopted a resolution urging renewal of the International Wheat Agreement which sets the price for sales between exporting and importing countries.

Canadian delegates to the two-day conference, a meeting of the North American members of the International Federation of Agricultural Producers, generally were optimistic that the agreement will be renewed.
